DEER MANAGEMENT

One of the most fundamental problems of sport is proper game management. As long as Indian tribes were the only human inhabitants of North America there was no such problem. What toll they took from streams, forests, and prairies had a negligible effect on the balance of nature. But, with the coming of the white man who felled the forests, plowed the prairies and polluted the streams, it became evident that only special management practices could make it possible for game to survive in this changed environment.

For the Indian game was important because it provided food. Today, however, it is important because it provides sport. This means a system of management which will foster those birds, fish, and animals which provide the best sport, in such a way that they will not interfere with agriculture and industry. It also means management which will not encourage one species and sport at the expense of other species and sports, which will not pit one group of sportsmen against other groups.

For many years there has been a conflict between shooting men and foxhunters based on the belief that game birds and foxes could not live together—a belief many times exploded by the findings of state game commissions and the owners of shooting preserves. More recently the descent of the deer from their forest ranges into the more fertile open lands has brought a conflict between deer shooters, farmers, and foxhunters.

This migration is the result of faulty management by certain state game commissions which, by over protection, have allowed the deer herds to increase to a point where they have over grazed and destroyed for many years to come the browse of the forest ranges. Seeking food they have naturally drifted to the farm lands, with consequent damages to crops and to sport—for deer are so tempting a quarry that it is extremely difficult to prevent foxhounds from running them.

Fortunately our most progressive commissions are taking steps to remedy the situation. The following release by the Virginia Commission shows that we can replace the balance of nature with the balance of sport.

"It is important for hunters to realize that where the Commission has declared open seasons on antlerless deer it is intended that does shall be shot. Harvest of a proper number of females is the practical means of checking the increase of the animals in an area where they are becoming too numerous.

"It is a well-known principle in deer management that the pyramiding numbers of animals must be checked long before they become numerous enough to endanger their ranges. In many states they have had the distressing experience of having allowed the herds to become so large that they have destroyed their ranges for years to come. Browse for deer is not developed overnight.

"Technicians of the Commission are making most careful studies of the mountain deer ranges and their carrying capacities with a view to preventing trouble from overbrowsing before it sets in. Strikingly enough, the very areas where efforts are now being made to control the numbers of animals are the same areas where there were no deer until the restocking program was inaugurated back in the 1930's.

"Where food in abundance is not available, it has been found time and time again that the animals fall off in average weight, they are attacked by disease, the does become sterile, and the males seldom have fully developed antlers. These consequences are noted not long before shortage of food is apparent to the casual observer.

"When only bucks are shot in the hunting season, the herd continues to grow, for the females will produce an average of one and one-half fawns annually. The increase is not so noticeable until there are considerable numbers of deer on a range, then their numbers increase with amazing rapidity. In many areas deer have died by the hundreds because of overcrowded ranges and resulting undernourishment and starvation.

"Harvesting a proper proportion of female deer is one of the most important factors in deer management. Hunters should know that when the Commission declares an open doe season it is for the purpose of applying well-known practices in the intelligent management of the deer."

Concerning Dressage

Dear Sir:

After reading many articles concerning dressage and its use in training the horse for the hunting field, I find I am in great need of some education on the subject.

A pillar of the Turf, somebody once said, is a gent who was a monkey-wrench in the wheels of progress for 30 years and has a memorial handicap named for him when he dies. This is not exactly true, as several events are named for very worthy people and a few honor politicians.

Racing, happily, doesn't wait until after death to deliver expressions of gratitude. At the very moment rash testimonial dinners are breaking out all over the place and before the cold weather has set in horse folk will have paid tribute to almost everyone who hasn't stood in out-and-out opposition to the sport.

Testimonial dinners are good for any institution. They provide the opportunity to talk about a person out in the open, instead of behind his back. This restricts the speakers somewhat, but broadens their powers of invention, and amazing eulogies are the result.

After the same maudlin speech has been drunk in and regurgitated by a dozen small-bore orators, the subject of the affair could be excused for concluding that he is a little too good for this world.

If the encomiums blown forth at a dinner for the assistant foreman of the shipping department were sealed in a time capsule and buried, the invading Martians who dig it up, 4000 years hence, will set the honored guest somewhere between Abraham Lincoln and St. John the Divine. And all you could honestly say for the man was that he wouldn't knife a fellow employee except for personal gain.

While I never have collected any statistics on the subject, it is my belief that many, if not most, testimonial dinners are conceived in places where the use of spirits is not frowned upon. Somebody is getting sentimental.

A remark like, "How 'bout, ol' Jimmie? Where's he tonight?" can start the ball rolling. A dozen important people will be contacted by phone and, by the time the originators of the idea have sobered up, it's too late to turn back. Some years ago, a dinner in honor of a race track head was born in precisely this manner.

There was an informal gathering of cronies of "Ol' Jimmie," who was as charming a gent as ever breathed and truly was loved by his associates. A spot of alcohol brought out their extreme affection for him. Those not too overcome by emotion outlined plans while others wept happily.

One member of the group had little to say, and because of his lack of enthusiasm, soon became conspicuous.

With a note of belligerence in his voice, the father of the idea demanded, "Wassa matter with you, George? Don't you want in on this?"

George was very serious—almost sober. "I love Ol' Jimmie as much as anybody here," he said; "but I know, and you know that Ol' Jimmie has been stealing from the track for ten years."

A shocked silence fell over the crowd, followed by a rumble of indignation. George sat transfixed by the glare of scornful eyes and waited for the answer.

It came, dripping with contempt. "And everyone knows, ALSO, he was told, that Jimmie hasn't stolen half as much as he could have!"

It was a delightful dinner, and if a transcription of the remarks were buried in a time capsule—(See paragraph mentioning dinner for assistant foreman of shipping department).

Monmouth Park

Monmouth Oaks, 31st running, 3-year-old fillies, 1½ miles (August 7). The inaugural of the Monmouth Oaks took place 83 years ago, in 1871. It was renewed each season (except 1878) up to 1893 and then disappeared from the face of the earth. One year it was run at Jerome Park, but all the other renewals were at old Monmouth.

In 1946, the management of the new Monmouth Park breathed life into the event and started it rolling once more. Last season the added money was shoved up to $50,000 and the distance fixed at a mile and one-eighth. Earlier it had been run at a mile and a half, a mile and a quarter and a mile and one-sixteenth. The new endowment should be heavy enough to hold it in one place.

Mrs. George D. Widener's Evening Out was made the choice for the Oaks, though she had been beaten twice in a row when the most heavily played.

This time she ran like the champion she is, getting the lead soon after the break and holding it to the end. She won by two lengths over Clear Dawn.

Fascinator, winner of the Kentucky Oaks, was up there for a while, but tired to finish twelfth; Parlo heroine of the Delaware Oaks, was prominent, but flattened out; and Riverina, which took the Coaching Club American Oaks, showed little and passed tiring horses to finish fifth.

Clear Dawn, which had defeated Evening Out in the Miss Woodford, at six Fascinator, June Fete and Miss Benz took turns in second place, but none was very close. As Fascinator tired, June Fete moved up with Garstara. With an eighth of a mile to go, it was Evening Out, Clear Dawn, Miss Benz and June Fete. The last two mentioned swapped places in the stretch. June Fete finished 2½ lengths before Clear Dawn and beat Miss Benz by a half.

The victory gives Evening Out 4 wins in 7 starts. She has been second once and third once. It was her first stakes triumph this year. The winner's share of $44,900 puts her at $78,150.

Last year she brought in $121,260 in winning 5 of 6 starts. She was out of the money only in the Futurity.

Stakes won were the Matron, Schuylerville, filly division of the National Stallion, the Spinaway and the Fashion.

Better Goods and Pet Bully fought for the lead in the first few furlongs, each taking a turn on top. When Better Goods began to drop, back Closed Door went to the front.

The winner's share gives Brown Booter $40,925 for 1954. He shows 17 starts, 5 wins, 3 seconds and 1 third.

He didn't win a stakes last season but earned $15,975 with 3 wins, 2 seconds and a third. As a juvenile (he is four now) he took the Youthful Stakes at Randall.

The Flash Stakes, 80th running, 5½ furlongs, 2-year-olds (August 2). The daytime television watchers who got ahead when Lord Willin' scored at better than 3 to 1, put it back when Mr. Godfrey's colt tried for his first stakes. The Lip of Lipton's warned 'em, though. I know because I heard him.

My phone rang on the morning of August 2 and when I answered it (very promptly, Mr. Bell) there was a familiar voice on the other end. It was talking about horses, and after a moment it became clear that it wasn't talking particularly to me. It was the voice Arthur Godfrey.

A chuckle that wasn't part of the program cleared up the mystery. This artist friend of mine who can paint with one hand and watch TV with the other, is probably Arthur's most faithful fan. When the world's best-known Thoroughbred owner starts talking horses, the brush-slinger dials me and lays the telephone transmitter in front of the radio or video (whatever Godfrey happens to be coming out of at the time) and I get the unexpurgated program. Always, my first impression is that I am getting a person-to-person call, but before I can say, "Well to tell you the truth, Mr. Godfrey—" Frank Parker come in and I realize that Mr. Godfrey doesn't even know that I'm listening.

He didn't advise home-makers to wager on his horse. He expressed hope but not optimism; but that's enough for most bettors.

Laugh was the winner, as the serious punters bet he would be. Lord Willin' ran swiftly, but the competition seemed a little tough and he tired.

Bunny's Babe broke on top with Lord Willin' and Cup Man close at hand. After half a mile, Bunny's Babe was on top by two lengths, with Illusionist and Cup Man fighting for second.

Laugh came up with a rush and swept past the leader in the stretch. He drew out to win by two lengths. Heads separated Bunny's Babe, Illusionist and Cup Man at the end. They finished in the order listed.

Laugh added $9400 to his earnings which now stand at $30,350. He won the Albany Stakes in July, and shows 4 wins, 3 seconds and 2 thirds in 11 starts.

The bay son of Bimelech—Laughter, by Johnstown was bred and is owned by Wheatley Stable. Jim Fitzsimmons is the trainer. Jimmy Nichols had the mount.

The American Legion Handicap, 28th running, 7 furlongs, 3-year-olds and up (August 4). Fisherman shoved himself back into prominence with a smart win in the American Legion Handicap. He was the only three-year-old in the race, and the highweight (under 122 pounds) actually and by the scale.

Jockey Woodhouse held him off the pace for about half the race then shoved him ahead. The son of Phalanx got the lead coming around the bend and was a length and a quarter to the good at the eighth pole. Copper Kettle sawed this in half through the straight but Fisherman was not fully extended at the end.

Cold Command, five-year-old stable-mate of the winner, was third 2½ lengths back of Copper Kettle and the same distance before Kaster.

Fisherman's season's total earnings rose to $85,125 with the Legion's $8975.

It was his second win (he took the Gotham Stakes in April) in 7 1954 starts. He has been second 4 times.

Last year, Fisherman won 6 of his 12 races and finished second once. He earned $123,075.

Stakes accounted for in 1953 were the great American, Cowdin, Champagne and East View. The colt is C. V. Whitney-owned-and-bred, and was produced by Crawford, a daughter of Halcyon.

Sylvester Veitch trains.

Shipboard Scores in Shillelah 'Chase 'Cap; Neji Wins Three Divisions of National Maiden Stakes

Spectator

On Thursday, August 6th the 51st edition of the Shillelah Steeplechase Handicap resulted in one of the most exciting finishes of the year. After a see-saw battle from the head of the backstretch to the final fence between Montpelier's Shipboard and L. R. Troiano's King Commander, the latter appeared to have the race won at the last jump with about a length advantage over Shipboard, but then Albert Foot on the Montpelier color-bearer put up one of those windmill finishes of his and charged across the wire by almost two lengths in front of his rival. He did not actually get to the front until almost up to the wire, and had the crowd tingling with excitement as Shipboard was the 13 to 10 favorite.

Ten were named for the Shillelah, but both Extra Points and Sun Shower, the top weights, were withdrawn the morning of the race, and rumor has it that neither are ready at this time. Escargot, a four-time hurdle winner this year, was also withdrawn, but the field of 7 made an interesting contest, bringing among others Mrs. Ogden Phipps' champion of 1952, Oedipus to the post. This was his first start over brush for the current year, and for a turn to the field Oedipus ran and jumped to his best form, either in the lead or pressing it, but gave way as the field raced round the club house turn the second time. As a matter of fact for the first four of the course, a blanket would have just about covered six of the seven starters. At the third fence, Vernon Cardy's English import Prince of Devon, jumped into the lead followed by Oedipus, Coveted and King Commander in that order, but down the far side Prince of Devon surrendered his lead to King Commander, while Shipboard moved into second place. The field continued to race closely bunched until rounding into the far side the last time, when it boiled down to a two horse contest between King Commander and Shipboard, while Oedipus, which had been in third place, started to give way. Drawing out from the others, these two battled it out with King Commander having the best of it most of the way. Curving around the last turn, he led by about a length, and continued that advantage to the final fence, where Jockey A. Foot's finish snatched an apparent defeat into a fine victory.

Over a course softened by a heavy shower just prior to the race, Shipboard completed this long 2-mile distance in 4:17½, just about 9 full seconds off the record, which of course was set under hard conditions by Pontius Pilate in 1950. Shipboard, a four-year-old gelding by Battleship, from the Annapolis mare, Sea Borne, has now won 4 of his 5 starts this year. He carried 139 lbs., in the Shillelah, 10 lbs. below the scale, and actual top weight on the scale among the starters. King Commander, a 5-year-old under 143 lbs., was actually in receipt of 4 lbs. from Shipboard on the scale.

In any event, this small, but well-made son of Battleship impresses this observer as the best 4-year-old through the field since Oedipus in 1950. Interestingly enough Oedipus won the Shillelah in 1950 under an impost of 135 lbs. A quick check of the stud book reveals that Shipboard is Sea Borne's first foal, and is one of the few crosses of Battleship and Annapolis.

The following day, Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji became the first jumper to score in all 3 divisions of the National Maiden Stakes. Carrying top weight of 161 lbs., a truly heavy burden for a 4-yr.-old, Neji with F. D. Adams in the saddle, was rated behind the leaders until turning into the backstretch the second time, then was moved into second place behind Heureux 2nd, but did not actually gain the lead until nearing the final hurdle. Neji scored by 2 lengths with the French-bred Heureux 2nd in the runner-up position four lengths in front of Oneida, with Amy Robsart and Bombez completing the small field in that order. Shortly after the break, the 3-year-old Bombez went to the front and appeared likely to steal off to a good lead, but mistakes in fencing kept her advantage to not more than a couple of lengths. Closest in pursuit was Oneida, but when Heureux 2nd and Neji started to move going down the far side, both Bombez and Oneida were unable to withstand them, and the French-bred with Albert Foot in the saddle took the lead going to the far turn, with Neji in close attendance. From that point on it became a two horse race with Neji gaining the lead when put to a drive by Adams. Although beaten, Heureux 2nd ran an improved race, showed a good performance but was not up to the rather remarkable race run by Neji. Time for the mile and three quarters was 3:29½ over a course on the soft side, and less than five seconds off the record. Mrs. Ogden Phipps acquired Neji for $16,000 from the McKinney dispersal sale. By Hunters Moon 4th, out of Accra by Annapolis, Neji was bred by Mrs. Marion Scott and sold by her to Rigan McKinney as a yearling. In 10 starts through the field this year, Neji has won 4, placed on 3 occasions, been third twice, and has only run out of the money once.

It might be said that trainer Ray Woolfe took a personal interest in the through the field racing during the first week. On Monday, he saddled Mrs. A. W. McGrath's *Camee, which scored in a maiden hurdle race with Albert Foot doing the booting. The following day, this same combination came home in front with Montpelier's Mighty Mo. Giving his contemporaries a break, Ray took Wednesday off and merely was a spectator. Thursday, he saddled Shipboard for his impressive win in the Shillelah, while on Friday he had to be content with a second with *Heureux 2nd. On Saturday, Montpelier's Altus led down the far side and around the turn into the stretch, only to be nipped at the wire, beaten a nose. It was still a pretty good week, 3 wins and 2 seconds in 5 tries.

*Camee's victory in the maiden hurdle race on Monday was at the direct expense of G. H. Bostwick's French Syndicate purchase, *Hyrcan, which finish-

The French Racing Scene

Grand Prix de Paris Falls to Stride of Popof; Chantilly Suffers Unusual Bad Weather

"Manna"

A big chestnut colt swooping down on the leaders to win the Grand Prix de Paris in the last few strides provided the climax to the first half of the French racing season. The colt was M. Robert Thion de la Chaume's Popof, giving his jockey Fred Palmer his third winning Grand Prix ride in the last five years.

The Grand Prix de Paris, worth roughly £25,000 to the winner, is the most coveted prize in the French Racing Calendar. It is run, by tradition, over one mile and seven furlongs at Longchamp on the last Sunday in June, and to produce a top class 3-year-old capable of staying this distance so early in the year is the aim of every French breeder.

Force of circumstances prevented five of the leading 3-year-olds from going to the post this season, but the 17 runners, although they were not quite up to the usual standard, provided one of the most exciting finishes to the great race for some years. Only two lengths separated the first five home.

A sunny afternoon brought the usual big crowd to Longchamp and Sica Boy, third in the French Derby, was made favorite.

The early pace was not a fast one and Rabella, a full sister to the Prix du Cadran winner Silex II, soon went ahead. Turning into the back straight Rabella was followed by a group consisting of Ranchiquito, Popof, Centuple and M. Boussac's pair Alcaraz and Altana. Antares, as in the French Derby, was last to leave the gate.

Rabella still held her lead on the final bend being challenged by Alcaraz and Yorick with Popof and Mistrador well placed and Sun Cap, going very easily, also in a nice position.

Rabella lost her lead just before the short two furlong straight was reached. Yorick and Alcaraz then drew quickly to the front, but Sun Cap began to weaken and Mistrador could not improve his position under pressure. Just when it appeared certain that either Yorick or Alcaraz would win, Palmer asked Popof for his final effort and the colt, finding a clear run on the far rails, raced past the two leaders well inside the last furlong to win by three quarters of a length.

Yorick finally got the better of Alcaraz by a short neck, while Major was a further three quarters of a length away fourth and Mistrador a neck behind him in fifth place.

Popof is by the Prix du Cadran winner Turmoil out of a mare named Barclays, whom M. Thion de la Chaume bought at a private sale a few years ago when she was at an advanced age. Barclays was twenty-one when she foaled Popof.

Richard Carver, Jr., Popof's trainer, comes from a racing family. His father trains for H. H. Aga Khan, while his cousin Reginald saddled Sun Cap to win the English Oaks.

Popof did not run as a 2-year-old. The two races he won before the Grand Prix were discussed in my previous article and it was his performance in them that caused me to select him for the French Derby which has so far been the only other race of his career. His complete failure in the Chantilly classic was caused by his inability to act on the very heavy going. With normal underfoot conditions in the Grand Prix de Paris, he proved himself the good colt I have always believed him to be.

Yorick, the runner up, was really his owner's second string, for Baron Guy de Rothschild's good colt Le Geographe, the leading 2-year-old of his sex, sprained a muscle early in the year and could not be trained for the classics. Yorick, I understand, has never been regarded as a top class horse by his stable.

They must have been pleasantly surprised at his running. He certainly proved a capable understudy.

There were no valid excuses for any of the beaten horses except Altana, who met with interference. Sun Cap, who had run away with the English Oaks earlier in the month, might have won at a mile and a half, but she failed to stay. Centuple, a full brother to the great Tantieme, was outstanding in the parade but disappointing in the race.

Sica Boy turned the race into a personal tragedy for Rae Johnstone, his jockey, by finishing next to last. Johnstone had chosen to ride him in preference to both Sun Cap, on whom he had won the Oaks, and Popof, whom he had ridden in the French Derby.

Le Geographe was one of the five notable absentees from the Grand Prix de Paris which I mentioned earlier. The others were Ferriol, runner up in the English 2000 Guineas, Prince Rouge, runaway winner of the Prix Hocquart, Le Petit Prince, winner of the French Derby, and Tahiti, successful in the Prix de Diane, or the French Oaks. Tahiti was amiss at the time of the Grand Prix de Paris and it was thought advisable not to saddle her.

Ferriol had broken down, Prince Rouge was not entered and Le Petit Prince pulled up lame after a gallop during the week before the race.

The absence of Le Petit Prince was particularly regrettable. His success in the Prix du Jockey Club, called the French Derby, had caused one of the biggest sensations of the season and many people still refused to believe him to be a good horse. Le Petit Prince spent his 2-year-old career in England, running without distinction in four small races. His only success prior to the French Derby had been in a minor event at Le Tremblay.

Chantilly is usually favoured by good weather for its two days racing a year, the first and second Sundays in June, when the Prix de Diane and the Prix du Jockey Club are run. This year, however, the weather turned against it with a vengeance. The afternoon of the French Derby, in particular, was a wretched one.

Persistent rain had made the going

Tall Weeds At $31,500 Tops Dispersal Of Estate of R. G. Martin

The breeding stock, sucklings and yearlings of the Estate of Royce G. Martin and those owned by J. L. Cleveland were sold at Keeneland on Thursday morning, July 29.

The top priced yearling of the lot was the Coaltown colt out of the Fashion States winner Caltha at $19,500, which was bought by S. W. Ward as agent. A War Admiral filly, sister to Navy Chief and half-sister to Fond Embrace, was sold to R. M. Wood for $13,500. The 22 Martin yearlings sold, bought $113,300, averaging $5,160; while the Cleveland yearlings, 14 head—$28,500, averaged $2,026.

Among the broodmares, the Ashland Stakes winner, Tall Weeds registered the high price, being bought by Robert Bricken, as agent for $31,500. The Martin mares, Lady Dorimar and Caltha, stakes winners, and the stakes producer Mother India, brought $20,000 and over. The 45 Martin mares brought $351,300, to average $7,807. The Cleveland average was $470, for the 22, $10,350.

The four Martin stallions were auctioned, with Our Boots bringing the top price on the lone bid of $10,000 from Humphrey Finney, as agent. ### KENTUCKY

Kingston Sells Privately

The Penn Brothers' Kingston Farm, Lexington, is selling its entire yearling crop privately. Among the Kingston offerings are sons and daughters of *Bernborough, Blue Swords, Bull Run, Eternal Lark, Eternal War, Roman Bout, Star Pilot, *The Sultan and Tiger.

Werner Replaces Nuckols at Keeneland

Frank Werner, recent graduate of the University of Kentucky, has been named Assistant General Manager of Keeneland, to replace Hiram Nuckols.

Mr. Nuckols, one of the brothers who own Hurstland Farm, Midway, resigned because of the press of other business.

Dogoon's Kin

E. Gay Drake, owner of Mineola Farm, Lexington, has a yearling full brother to Dogoon, recent winner of the Lads and Lassies and Governor's Stakes at Detroit. Swoon, the dam, has a suckling half sister, by Challenge Me, to her illustrious The Doge colt; and is in foal to *Bernborough.

Mr. Drake recalls that he tried in vain to sell Dogoon last summer, and for a time debated whether to give the colt away or to put him in training. The Mineola owner decided on the latter course; and, when he saw how well Dogoon went, determined not to sell him.

Gay Grecque's Half Brother

A. B. Hancock and Charles Jewell have a suckling half brother, by Brookfield, to the recent Champlain Handicap winner Gay Grecque at Mr. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris. Messrs. Hancock and Jewell bought the dam, Dark Tower, from Leslie Combs II and Frank J. Heller for $5,200 at last fall's Keeneland Sales. Half sister, by *Blenheim II, to Massa, who took the first running of the Belmont Spring Maiden Steeplechase Handicap, Dark Tower was bred to Some Chance this spring.

The imported colt by *Royal Charger—Bray Melody, by Coup de Lyon, a brother to the good Irish stakes winner Happy Laughter, found many admirers at Keeneland, and was sold to R. D. Coon for $53,500.

Roman Bout's First

C and P Farm's Deedee O., recent winner of the M R A Futurity, is the first stakes winner for Roman Bout, who stands at A. F. Wall's Lismore Farm, Lexington.

Roman Bout, by Roman—Mowabout, by *Sickle, won two races and $10,300 in a racing career that was cut short by an injury soon after he had been beaten a nose by Commodore Lea in the Bahamas Handicap.

Hill Gail, *Royal Serenade Arrive

Calumet Farm's Hill Gail and the syndicated *Royal Serenade arrived last week in Lexington, Ky., from California.

*Royal Serenade, winner of the American Handicap, Hollywood Gold Cup and $160,900 in the United States, will stand at Lou P. Doherty's Stallion Station. The Irish-bred six-year-old son of *Royal Charger—Pasquinade, by Pasch, stood in California this season. In England, he took the Red Dragon, Caterham, Rous, Prendergast, Jersey, Cork and Orrery and King George Stakes, two runnings of the Nunthorpe Sweepstakes and £10,971.

No stud plans have been announced for Hill Gail, victor in the Arlington Futurity, San Vicente Stakes, Santa Anita and Kentucky Derbies, Phoenix Handicap and Derby Trial. In some quarters, the $332,555 earner, a five-year-old son of Bull Lea—Jane Gail, by *Blenheim II, had been expected to stand in California.

Future Date

The season's two best two-year-olds have a date in the future, when both are retired from the tracks. Charlton Clay, owner of Marchmont Farm, Paris, has booked his sensational filly Lea Lane to the sensational colt Royal Note, owned by Tilford L. Wilson and Carl T. Houston of Lexington.

*Hierocles' First

Mrs. C. E. Adams' Escargot, recent winner of the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap, is the first American stakes winner for his sire, *Hierocles, one of the French imports syndicated by Henry H. Knight's Almahurst Farm, Lexington.

French sire Djebel, *Hierocles took the Prix Chouberski, de Bois-Roussel and d'Hedouville, two runnings of the Prix d'Ispahan and 1,115,590 francs in three racing seasons.

He got several French and English stakes captors before he came to the United States.

De Luxe to Missouri

True Davis, Jr., has moved his stallion De Luxe from Mildred W. Woolwine's White Oaks Farm, Lexington, Ky., to his own Cloverton Farm, St. Joseph, Mo.

A son of Bull Lea from the Kentucky Oaks winner Nellie L., by *Blenheim II, De Luke took the 1950 King Philip Handicap and Narragansett Special.

Laugh's Three-Quarters Brother

Wheatley Stable has a suckling three-quarters brother, by Bimelech's son Better Self, to Laugh, the Bimelech colt that recently won the Albany and Flash Stakes, at A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris. The mare, Laughter, who has also produced the Tremont Stakes victor Hilarious to the cover of Bimelech, went back to him this spring.

Blue Ruler's Half Sister

A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, has a suckling half sister, by Citation, to Murcain Stable's Blue Ruler, recent winner of the Starlet Stakes. The dam, Blue Grass, who took the Churchill Downs Debutante Stakes and Kentucky Oaks, was bred back this spring to Blue Ruler's sire, *Nasrullah.

Constantin Hospitalized at Lexington

Baird to Duntreath

Ralph Baird, who recently resigned as Manager of Mrs. John D. Hertz' Stoner Creek Stud, Paris, has been appointed Manager of Perne L. Grissom's Duntreath Farm, Lexington, to succeed Pete Williams.

Try It Again

"If it works once, try it again," is apparently the philosophy of the Samuel D. Riddle Estate, which operates a portion of Faraway Farm, Lexington.

On July 21, Andrew J. Crevolin's War Tryst, by the Riddle Estate's stallion War Relic from the Woodvale Farm's mare Sweet Tryst, won the El Dorado Handicap at Hollywood Park.

On July 29, the Riddle Estate paid

$18,500 for Sweet Tryst at the dispersal of breeding stock from the late Royce G. Martin's Woodvale, Lexington.

It is 2-5 that Sweet Tryst will go to War Relic next spring.

IRELAND

Tulyar's '55 Book

In addition to nominations retained for the Irish National Stud's own mares, those of the Aga Khan and of the British National Stud, 31 outside matrons have been named to go to the court of Tulyar in 1955. Included in this group is Mrs. M. E. Person's Red Stamp (Bimelech—Peggy Porter, by The Porter), dam of the stakes winning Porterhouse.

The Trouville Yarn

There is an interesting story attached to Trouville, the 2-year-old which won the Curragh Foal Plate from the best of the Irish youngsters. Nearly three years ago, Lady Waterford's husband, Lieut-Colonel John Silcock was traveling in France. There he saw a mare, Chloris II which made a big impression on him, so much so that he bought her for a large sum. She was in foal to Dogat (whose grandsire is the mighty Boussac stallion, Tourbillon), and Col. Silcock decided to let her remain in France, have her foal there, and then mate her with Lacaduv, the French sire, before bringing her home to Ireland, with her Dogat foal. That foal is now, of course, Trouville, and the mating has produced a beautiful yearling filly, which will run in Lady Waterford's colors next season. By then, she will be "Irish by adoption."

TEXAS

Spanish Names

With an eye, perhaps, for the Latin markets for Thoroughbreds, Bud Burmester secured six Spanish names from the Registrar for his 1954 foals. Incidentally, this naming foals early is a habit of Burmester's.

For the stud colt out of Larita, which is a half brother to Dictar, the Texan secured Dia San Juan, and the brown filly out of Red Haw will go racing as Dona Maria. Reputation, Burmester's well proportioned *Heliopolis mare, has a grand filly and the latter's name is Rio Oriente. Marajen's filly, half sister to the winning Deep Margie, is named Vega Baja, and the well set up stud colt out of Haven has been named Arecibo, which is reminiscent of her grand sire, Ariel. County Miss, from Col. Phil Chinn's Old Hickory stud and by Zacaweista, has a top filly and it will be known as La Bajada when racing days come.

All the foals are by Burmester's home sire, Lucky Oscar.

Big Job

Did you know it required 3 tons of lead, 5,500 pounds of paper and a half-million press runs, to print Fasig-Tipton's Saratoga Sales Catalogues?

OH I'D BE GLAD TO SCHOOL HIM, IN ARITHMETIC!

The Clubhouse Turn

A Small World

It's a small world and all the rest of it. Last week a Texas horseman experienced some trouble with the clock in his car, due probably to the terrible heat which has been toasting the Southwest to a crisp in recent weeks, so he popped into an automotive shop in this area to have the clock fixed. A smallish sort of mechanic went to work on the timepiece, and as he was removing the clock from the dashboard, he turned to the horseman and enquired "you don't remember me, do you?". The horseman thought and thought, yet couldn't place the overalled repair man. Finally, the workman mentioned George Ogle, Oklahoma horseman, from around Pawhuska and Waurika way, and then it flashed that the clock repairer was the former star jockey from Oklahoma, Kirby Good, who ride at Arlington Downs and other points in the late 30's.

Good explained that he always had been mechanically minded and when Texas ruled out wagering and with it racing, he went ahead and learned to repair watches and clocks, bidding the track farewell. Good inquired about Leon (Buddy) Haas, with whom he was quite pally in the old days. Haas, too, has quit the track and is said to be operating a cafe in the Southwest.

Strong Supporter

Fred W. Hooper who paid $10,200 for the Kentucky Derby winner Hoop Jr. out of the 1943 summer sales was at Keeneland for the Breeder's Sales vendue this year and lent more than moral support to his young stallion Olympia.

Of the 9 Olympia yearlings offered, Mr. Hooper was the top bidder on 5, 1 filly and 4 colts for $54,000.

Plans For United Hunts-At-Belmont

Following a conference with Amory L. Haskell, president of the United Hunts Racing Association, Frank E. Kilroe, racing secretary, and John E. Cooper, steeplechase racing secretary, announced plans for the United Hunts-At-Belmont Park fall meeting. To be held at the conclusion of the Belmont Park session on October 21 and 22, the two-day meeting will disburse $90,500 in purse money.

Secretary Kilroe has approval to raise the Turf and Field Handicap from $7,500 to $10,000 added money. Heretofore a one mile classified handicap for 3-year-olds and upward, the coming renewal will be a handicap over the same distance for sophomores exclusively. The Lewis E. Waring, honoring the late president of the UHRA, has been changed from an overnight allowance test to a classified handicap for 3-year-olds and upward. Carrying a purse of $7,500, the race will be run over the six furlong distance.

The featured Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase Handicap with a purse of $15,000 added money, will be returned to its route status at two and a half miles. The New York Turf Writers Cup, a $10,000 added hurdle handicap is to be lengthened from one mile and three quarters to two miles.

To encourage neophyte hurdle horses, The Louis E. Stoddard, Jr., with a purse of $6,000 will be a test for 3-year-olds over the one mile and three quarters hurdle route. With a purse of $5,000, the Cherry Malotte Handicap, secondary chase attraction over the two mile brush course, has had the age eligibility reduced to include 3-year-olds. —D. F. C.

Wilton Sable's Royal Note, winning the 25th running of the Arlington Futurity. The bay 2-year-old son of Spy Song—Penroyal, by *Royal Minstrel pocketed a net purse of $93,345.

Marylander Buys 4

G. R. Bryson, who maintains a breeding farm at Kingsville Maryland where he stands *Abbe Pierre and High Lea, was very much in evidence at Keeneland buying 4. His purchases included 3 fillies and a War Relic colt out of an Alsab mare, who might turn out to be one of the bargains of the sale. His fillies are by Devil Diver, Papa Redbird and Count Fleet, all representing outcrosses to the Elray Farm stallions, should they ever be retired to the farm as matrons.

Jones Improving

Charles W. Jones, operator of Bashford Manor Farm, Buechel, is improving after a recent heart attack; but is still confined to his home. —F. T. P.

That Arizona Sun

Colonel George B. McCamey, prominent Texas capitalist, and former owner of Bedford Stock Farm, close to Fort Worth, has been here for the past few weeks, finding time to attend the racing at various points in Arizona. Col. McCamey has been indisposed for some time but the healing rays of the Arizona sun has worked wonders with "the misery" and right now the veteran Thoroughbred patron is contemplating the purchase of a small ranch in this vicinity, and might even raise a few gallopers in the years to come. Col. McCamey's last stallions were Sangreal and Valted.

Henthorne Promoted to #### Research Director

Dale Henthorne, Chief Laboratory Technician at Howard M. Reineman's Crown Crest Research Laboratories, Lexington, has been promoted to Research Director. He will have charge of all the experimental equipment at Crown Crest. —F. T. P.

Progress

The Astra Stud, which came into existence only a little over a year ago in Germany, has really done itself proud this season. Not only has its Kaliber won the German and Austrian Derbies, but their Fanal, ridden by Herr Linsenhoff, was 2nd in the Prize of the Federal Chancellor, a dressage competition at this year's Aachen Horse Show. Through the efforts of Herr Lorke, the Astra Stud is one of the leading dressage stables in Germany today.

Carter Sues Over Claiming Delay

Melvin Carter, owner of Lakeview Farm Frankfort, Ky., has filed an $1,800 suit against Western Union for its alleged failure to deliver a $3,000 money order in time for him to claim the five-year-old mare Inanabout on July 23, 1953. As a result of the delay, Mr. Carter charges that he had to pay $500 more to claim the mare when she next appeared on August 12, and lost the $1,300 purse she won on that date. —F. T. P.

Najaha

Nancy Jane Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Edward Hart, had the good fortune to have a top 1954 foal named for her. Taking the first two letters of her first, second-and-third name, it came up Najaha, and the Registrar, Mrs. L. Brennan, permitted this name to be tagged on the colt by Big Brass—Geraldine F by Cee Jay Jay, belonging to her grandfather J. O. Hart.

The Irish Racing Scene

Fifty To One Shot Scores in Derby; Pantomime Queen Re-Establishes Her Position

Phil de Burgh-O'Brien

Crowning upset in a season of upsets was the victory of 50 to 1 chance Zarathrusta, in the Irish Derby, June 23, at the Curragh. This black colt had been a prominent 2-year-old, but in his earlier races this year had failed to justify stable hopes. Trainer Michael Hurley had tried to persuade owner Terence J. Grey to sell him as a yearling—who likes a black anyhow!—but the bearded resident of the principality of Monace insisted in keeping the colt in training, with the happiest results.

It was the first classic win for rider Paddy Powell, and for trainer Mick Hurley, lately moved into Osborne Lodge, the Curragh, from the south. It was Mick who named the colt—oddly too, for it is the Surname of a Persian priest; apt, if we remember the horse's sire is Persian Gulf.

Last year this colt won three races, and attracted a bid of 12,000 pounds from an American source (turned down). In the Irish Guineas, over a mile he made no show behind Arctic Wind, so that he ran virtually unbacked by public or stable. Tale of Two Cities, the horse which had run second in the Guineas, was again all the rage with punters; this time, however, he was beaten on merit, failing to stay the extra half-mile.

A huge crowd witnessed the race in perfect conditions. Off to a good start, the handicapper Town's Wall quickly set up a gap which he retained until well into the straight. He was then joined by the forcing Hidalgo, and the ultimate winner, which soon forged ahead for a comfortable 1½ lengths win from the former, with the 1 to 2 favorite, Tale of Two Cities a length further back. In order, finished, Town's Wall, Kingsley, Irish Slipper, Arctic Wind, Court Splendour, Beau Sejour, Sharragh, Calvero.

Zarathrusta won because he was the only horse in the race with pretensions of staying the 12 furlongs of the testing Curragh track. Arctic Wind was not suited to the riding tactics adopted, for he is a horse which likes to go right out from the start; here he was waited with—much too long. Backed down to second favorite, he carried a lot of money, much of it "stable," because of a terrific trial he had done a week before. Calvero was the disappointment of the race, but Irish Slipper ran well for over a mile, his best distance. He has since been sold to Canada. The purse was worth over 7,000 pounds to the winning owner.

Bred by the late Sir Harold Grey, Zarathrusta is by Persian Gulf—Salvia, a mare bred by the late Lord Furness, by Sansovino. Salvia had produced three earlier winners; also, Salvinia, by Sea Serpent, a dam of winners. Next dam, Love in the Mist, is by Buchan—Ecstasy by Volta—Love-Oil. Best previous colt coming from this line was Whistler, winner of the Coventry and Champagne Stakes of 1952. Love Oil was a prolific dam of winners, none of much consequence, however, excepting Legatee.

Classic form was rudely shaken in the semi-classic event, the Pretty Polly Stakes, 10 furlongs. D. R. O'Meara's Belle Collette, surprised the big attendance when scoring readily from the 1,000 gns.

Terence J. Grey's Zarathrusta pulled a surprise in the Irish Derby when the black Persian Gulf colt won comfortably from Hidalgo by 1½ lengths. Tale of Two Cities the favorite, was 3rd.

winner, Pantomime Queen. Taking third spot was Marmot. The winner, which was not entered in the Irish Oaks, is by the young sire, Beau Sabreur—Collette by Columkille—Immortelle by Spion Kop from Daisy Square. Bred by Dr. H. Quinlan, she was ridden by John Power and trained by John Oxx. This was her second big success, for earlier she had accounted for a useful field in the Athasi Plate, another of the "semi-classics."

Yet another of the season's shocks was forthcoming in the chief fillies' classic, the Irish Oaks run July 10. The great disappointment of the race was the Aga Khan's highly rated Baghicheh, coming with a big reputation from France. A 4 to 7 favorite, she never held out hope and the daughter of *Nasrullah finished tenth. Making ample amends for her previous failure Pantomime Queen, 100 to 7 in the betting, proved she could stay when holding off the determined challenge of Little Honey to win by a length. In third place came Red Winter, owned by Sir Winston Churchill, veteran English statesman.

This was a very good-looking and well-bred field, with such as Alfresco (Alycidon—Garden Path) catching the eye. Owned by Lord Derby, she is probably the best looker in training. She finished fourth. With Rock Hycinth setting a fast gallop from the gate a fast pace was assured. Move Forward led in turn, holding a good chance until the hill into the straight found her weakness. Pantomime Queen went to the front soon after and found a reserve to beat off the challenge forthcoming from the Maharani Sita Devi Gaekwar of Baroda's Sayajirao filly, Little Honey, which ran a game race. Red Winter was fully ten lengths back, third. Gerry Cooney rode the winner which is trained by the veteran, Hubert Hartigan.

After her victory in the Irish 1,000 gns., I gave Pantomime Queen's pedigree in some detail. Briefly, she is a chestnut by Stardust (by Hyperion)—Ella Retford by Turkhan and was bred by the Woodside Bloodstock Co., Of particular interest is that Ella Retford, dam of Pantomime Queen and owned by James McVey, Jr., has been given one of the coveted nominations to Tulyar in 1955.

Most important of the Irish two-year-old races to date was the Curragh Foal Plate, worth 1,000 sovereigns. A select field included, Joe McGrath's champ, Flying Story, Dark Issue (Sayajirao), Agar's Plough, all previous winners. Creating a big upset here was Lady Waterford's big youngster, Trouville which wore down the McGrath standard-bearer to win by a length, Dark Issue taking third place. Ridden by John

Pantomime Queen, winner of the Irish 1000 Guineas earlier this season, held off a determined challenge to win the Irish Oaks by a length, with Jockey Gerry Cooney in the irons.

Power and trained by John Oxx, the winner was making his second appearance on a racecourse. He is by the French stallion Dogat (by Rodosto)—Chloris II. In losing, Flying Story was far from disgraced for he was attempting the formidable task of conceding 13 pounds to the winner.

"Sales" event of the season was of course, the flight from Shannon, July 25, of the big consignment of the Aga Khan's horses for the Saratoga mart. With them America-bound, I expect to see two noted horses-in-training, Arctic Wind, the Irish 2,000 winner, and Sally Slipper, 5-year-old-race mare, owned by Mrs. King of Clonsilla. This mare is about the most popular performer on the Irish turf. She is a terrific sprinter, easily the best we have, with a notable record. Unfortunately, the handicappers give her the biggest weights to carry, under the rules! For instance, in the Midsummer Scurry Handicap over 6 furlongs, at the Curragh, the fans made her favorite to beat a choice field. And she almost succeeded for only one, the three times winner Shannon Gypsy finished ahead of her, by a length. This smart 3-year-old was in receipt of no less than 42 pounds!

Arcady Wins Mioland Mile at Portland Hunt Club Meeting

Without a doubt the most talked of events at the annual Portland Hunt Club Race Meet are the Mile, the Point-to-Point, and the Junior Quarter Mile. These three have been on almost every program since the meet was inaugurated 54 years ago. A number of horse's names appear several times on these perpetual trophies but this year there was a fresh, new winner to be engraved on each one, which in itself is rather gratifying. New blood is always good.

The Mioland Mile drew some top drawer entries and three of the four had never been raced at this track before. However, rider Bill Wallingford is by no means unfamiliar with the Portland oval, having won the mile last year on Loran Fleet. This year he rode his wife's newly acquired Arcady (Can't Wait—Clover Play) to win the Harold B. Ray trophy. It was an exciting race with Don Risling on his Mr. Fing in 2nd place, making a real race of it. Robert A. Herzog was on Largely, the latest addition to the Herzog stable. Although the big horse placed only 3rd, we had the feeling that considering it was Bob's first experience in a mile race, another time he could very well give the best of them a run for their money.

Entries in the point-to-point were terribly lacking right up to closing date. As usual, no one thought his horse was in shape, but a race over jumps never fails to lure at least a few hearty souls at the last moment. There were four entries in this event and only one of them had been over the 1½-mile course before. Miss Herta Taylor's Storm Crown with Clive Forsyth of Auckland, New Zealand up, proved to be the best of the lot in the final outcome. However, Emily Kuehne on her Persian Penny, which lead most of the way but had some hard luck refusals, made a terrific bid on the flat finish and nearly caught the leader.

The Junior Quarter Mile entrants were many and varied but at least the youthful members had their entries in on the accorded time and there was no mistaking that their mounts were in shape. Here too was a newcomer to the Portland track—Colonel Gish (Kiowa Chief—Betty Booth, Miss Sharon Frederick's little bay gelding which gave Sharon a speedy win to be awarded the Adrian Norton trophy.

Other traditional events carded for the week-end included the junior and senior corinthian hunters, and the hunt teams. The junior corinthian brought out a score of enthusiastic juniors and some mighty nice entries. In the winner's circle was Miss Mary Helen Chubbuck on her Victor, a very pleasing combination and just what the judges wanted for a safe child's hunter. There were even more entries in the senior corinthian and Mrs. George D. Heisley had a brilliant round to be awarded the top honors. The hunt teams class was the best in years and added much to an already colorful program of events.

Irish Racing Scene

"Sally" will be missed on Irish race-courses; they will not "seem the same" without her great gameness and indeed her personality. A hint: "Ireland's loss will be California's gain." She is by His Slipper, a grandson of Hyperion, and a sire notable for producing tough, durable horses, able to stand the wear and tear of hard racing—which could also be a hint. . . .

For the top spot in the Irish Sire standings, two are fighting it out. Arctic Star, with more winners than any other stallion, including Arctic Wind; and Persian Gulf, which is sire of the Irish Derby winner, Zarathrusta. I think the former will come out on top, although at this writing he is lying in second spot.

Pony Club Rally

U. S. Pony Clubs Participate in The Annual Canadian Inter Branch Pony Club Rally

Adele Davies Rockwell

American children and parents at the Annual Canadian Inter Branch Pony Club Rally June 24-27 at Sutton, Ontario, went home to Maryland and Pennsylvania with ribbons, yes—but more treasured—the memory of a wonderful time.

The Inter Branch Rally is really different from a horse show. Team effort is the primary thing and those kids certainly put their hearts into it. Success of any Branch representative in any of the separate events was hailed with joy, but failure to earn a ribbon was by no means a disgrace as points for teams were not awarded according to ribbons won but by actual marks earned in each event and sometimes those who placed and those who did not were very close indeed.

Marks given for the care horses and ponies received at the hands of the children throughout the rally counted high toward over-all team totals—almost one-third of the possible marks. Stable management marks were similarly high and the children certainly showed they are quite capable of giving their mounts the very best of care and attention.

It is not quite in order to refer to them as children, for participants in the rally went up to the age of 20 with the youngest ones being 9 years old. All teams had at least one of these oldsters to help their young ones; from the educational point of view the rally has no equal in helping the children learn to be better all-round horsemen.

Talks by rally judges were given preceding the events and again following them, so contestants would know what was expected of them and later what to do to improve. All seemed to appreciate this very much; in fact it was at the contestants' request that this was covered so extensively at this year's rally.

The mounted competitive events for "A" contestants took the form of a 3 Day Event as did also those for the "B's" (under 17); but "C's" (under 17 who had not progressed beyond the "C" Pony Club Standard) had less demanding events to correspond to the 3 phases of the 3 Day Event.

Teams were classified in two sections—one for Associates and one for Regular members which included B & C riders. Scoring took the 3 best scores made by B and/or C members of a team in their own respective event. This made it possible for regular member teams to be of varying sizes and also for practically every member of a team to contribute to his team's overall rally score; if his score was not among those one day it easily could be high enough the next. This sounds confusing on paper but it was mathematically fair, enabled branches unable to send many children to compete on a fair basis with those sending larger teams, and also spread the privilege of adding to the team's score among more children.

Maximum number permitted a B-C team was 9. A C and/or B non-riding captain under 21 was allowed and each Branch was allowed one stable helper under 17 for each 3 to 5 horses. Associate teams had a maximum of 5 riders and were also permitted a non-riding captain. Beyond these people, no one was allowed in the stable, not even the District Commissioners of Branches, except for one hour every afternoon when the stable was open to visitors.

The Sutton Fairgrounds provided good stabling, mostly box stalls under one roof. Competitors lived on the grounds. Boys (and there were quite a few) bunked in one arena and girls in another. The Honey Dew's mobile canteen served all the meals.

This year's rally aimed for more leisure time for contestants as previous ones have proved very tiring. There was not too much leisure time at that with all the work to be done, but the boys and girls got off for a swim every day in nearby Lake Simcoe; a bonfire and singing was staged one evening; and a square dance in one of the arenas another. Needless to say, an excellent time was had by all. Montreal, London, Toronto, and Aurora children met many old friends made at previous rallies, the gang from the Baltimore-Harford Branch knew some of the Radnor Branch children and also many of the Canadian ones as some of its teams members had been participants at last year's rally.

The rally committee was a large and hard working one appointed by the Toronto and North York Hunt under the chairmanship of E. J. Quigley. This was the Toronto & North York Hunt Branch's turn to act as "host" Branch. Each year the Inter Branch Rally rotates to various Canadian Branches which provides for much of its appeal as new ground and different accommodation facilities keep things very interesting.

There was a galaxy of judges rather than one or two over all rally judges. This worked well as it enabled judges to concentrate on their respective assignments without being overly rushed.

In addition to the mounted events, C's had a bridling competition and Associates and B's had conformation judging competitions which counted toward over-all team marks.

The 3 Day Event was a howling success. First phase for associates was the B. H. S. Elementary Dressage Test issued by L. J. McGuinness for all such competitions in Canada. Montreal and London accounted for the first six placings.

The Whys of Horsemanship

Elizabeth Ober

You must keep your mind constantly active analyzing the behavior of your horse or pony if you are to be a just master. For instance, suppose he refuses to go by a certain object on the road, is it because he connects it with something unpleasant and is frightened? Or is he putting your authority to a test? In arriving at the truth of his behavior, you can deal fairly with the situation. If you believe he is honestly afraid, you should coax him up to the object and encourage him to sniff it and assure him he has no cause to be frightened. But if you believe he is testing your authority, you must punish him and make him go by the object without further delay. If you make the wrong analysis and punish him when he is frightened or coax him past the object when he is testing your authority, you will confirm his fears or disobedience. Similar circumstances arise practically every time you ride your pony or horse. If he is to have good manners, you must deal intelligently with each one as it arises. It does not require great brilliance but understanding and common sense.

"B" dressage was the B. H. S. novice and resulted in Norman Elder of the Eglinton Hunt Branch, Toronto, winning by a small margin from Elizabeth Ross, London.

"C" dressage was titled "Best Trained Horse or Pony" and used the British Horse Society Pony Club "Z" Test—there was a 3-way tie for first between 9-year-old Miss Susan Levison and her team mate Danny Fitze of the Toronto and North York Hunt Branch and Miss Vickie Robertson of the Eglinton Hunt Branch.

C's went in small groups on a conducted ride through the country for their cross-country test and were marked by an accompanying judge on their deportment, courtesy, and good sense. American children took the first four placings.

The Cross-Country phase for associates and for B's was over a proper good route, about 8 miles in all for associates, somewhat shorter and only slightly less demanding for B's. This was a very exciting day and the way those riders went about their job, neither Canada or the U. S. should be wanting for future Olympic 3 Day Event riders.

Phase A of the cross country was roads and trails out behind the fair grounds; phase B over a steeplechase course of brush fences on the half mile track, but only a good canter was required for pace and no bonus points were given for speed. Roads and trails again for Phase C; then on to Phase D the cross-country jumping course. The log over an open water filled ditch was the only obstacle that caused any undue trouble and this ditch, just dug, probably looked too raw. The final Phase E in a regular 3 Day Event was omitted, being only the running on the flat and as boys and girls had not had enough time because of school to properly fit a horse for a real endurance test, this last phase was considered to serve no real purpose.

Although all the horses (there were some big ponies) finished the 8 miles strongly enough and certainly none were in distress, some of the riders could have rated their horses more sensibly for some went out at a stronger pace than necessary and had to wait to use up time after finishing some of the phases. It was, however, great experience for them and most of the bystanders were amazed by performances.

The stadium jumping, final phase of the 3 Day Event, was held Sunday morning. The C's (there were 35 of them) had a very simple jumping course including cavaletti on the ground to illustrate control and balance. Miss Pat Shade from the Baltimore-Harford Branch was the winner over Miss Mary Louison, Montreal. This event took longer to run off than planned which for the first time in the rally threw things off schedule.

In the "B" stadium jumping, first place was a tie with Terry Robertson and Miss Mary Jane Corbet, both of the Eglinton Team, each with a clean performance. Three associates tied with clean performances there were Miss Janet Spenceley, London; Bob Shea, Eglinton; and Miss Faith Heward, Montreal.

Just prior to the stadium jumping for associates and for B's there was a parade of riders showing their standing in the 3 Day Events. Pierre Raymond, Montreal, led the associate parade but he had the misfortune to have a refusal in the jumping which moved Miss Janet Spenceley, London, up to the top to win the individual challenge trophy for the 3 Day Event.

Normie Elder led the "B" parade and despite a refusal in the stadium jumping, he still led the "B" 3 Day Event final score by a wide margin.

The prize giving at the conclusion of the rally is when ribbons are handed out to winners and the team and other challenge trophies are presented.

The associate team trophy, won last year by the Maryland team from the Harford County Branch, this year went to the London Hunt Branch, London, Ontario. The London Team consisted of Miss Janet Spenceley, winner of the Associate Individual 3 Day Event; Miss Nancy Johnston, Ron Daron, and Bill Howe. Their non-riding captain was Miss Daphne Isard and stable helper, Miss Joanne Mihell.

The Eglinton Hunt Branch of Toronto and district children won the regular team trophy. This was a powerful team of six "B" riders and 3 "C" riders which earned 17 ribbons. Norman Elder was

Other "B's" on this winning team were Miss Jane Corbet and Moffat Dunlap with Miss Sandra Powell "B" captain and Miss Jane Wittick captain of "C's", Miss Sally Wallingford, Teddy Matthews and Miss Vickie Robertson. Miss Jill Robinson, Charles Pielsticker and Jack Pady were the stable helpers. This team managed to score well enough in competitive events to offset its stable management marks which were the lowest. The unwieldy size of the team might account for lack of efficiency in the stable but on the other hand this team was well supplied with jokesters.

The stable management award went to Eglinton's Associate team of Miss Sarah Bladen, Miss Donald Dunlap; Miss Sue Doan, Miss Barbara Graham, and Bob Shea with Tishie Hunter, captain and Miss Sally Murdoch, helper. Best regular member team in stable management was that of the Radnor Hunt Branch.

Caumsett Children's Invitation

The hunting field horsemanship class was unique in that it was complete to the Meadow Brook hounds and huntsman, Charles Plumb. The "run" was cross country on the Marshall Field estate and included stiff, natural post and rail fences, in and out and jumping on and off a roadway. The judges then picked out the best performers and had them show at a walk, trot, canter and hand gallop. Eventual winner was Miss Nancy Rice, a member of Smithtown hunt, followed by Miss Sara Ann Cavanagh, Miss Fiona Field and Michael Plumb all of Meadow Brook.

The mental hazard class was aptly named. The jumps were only 2'6" high but consisted of crossed poles, a bale of hay, a funeral parlor mat laid on barrels, a rail set on chairs and an in and out of oil drums, laid on their sides. The fences were in the form of a figure eight. Only two horses were faultless and on the basis of handiness and manners Miss Sara Ann Cavanagh's Manakin was awarded the blue ahead of Miss Linda Thomas' Lady Luck.

There was a tri-color for judging. The 14-16 year old juniors "judged" the maiden novice and two under 14 classes. Their decisions did not affect the awards in any way. They received points based on how closely their cards matched those of the regular judges. Winner on the basis of points was Miss Gail Price while Miss Meredith Miller was reserve.

The Pony Show

The long established and well-loved Pony Show for children under eighteen years had a fine day for its 37th annual affair. There were more exhibitors than ever—one class boasted forty-two!—which proves the popularity of the show in spite of no cash prizes. It is a "good, old-fashioned sporting event," affectionately thought of by young and old alike with the young competing for the lovely challenge trophies, many of which have been in competition for years and the parents coaching from the sidelines.

There were exhibitors from Maryland to up-state New York which was represented by the well turned out Miss Elizabeth Case whose neat pigtails popping from under her bowler caused much admiration. The biggest cup was carried back to Long Island by Miss Fiona Field who won the Pony Show Perpetual Challenge Cup for corinthian hunters with a brilliant performance on her pony, Penny. Miss Cristy West was one of those who kept honors at home as her dappled Mousie was pinned pony champion with Frank Harvey's attractive young Hot Shot Kid reserve. Cristy also won the special award and champion ribbon given to the jock for "all around good sportsmanship, horsemanship, and kindness to their mount." It was an innovation this year, open to any member of the Pony Club and judged throughout the day. In the horse division, another gray, Gordon Snyder's Sheffield, took the championship ribbon with Miss Joannah C. Hall's consistent Mini-Maide reserve.

North Jersey Horse and Pony League

There was only one horse championship offered. This was to the horse which received the most points in all classes. Petite Mignon, a bay hunter owned by Jack Cogan and ridden by Miss Barbara Walters, came out on top in this championship, with Miss Patsy Ann Smith's chestnut hunter, Mr. Marshall, reserve.

Miss Smith also triumphed in the hunter seat horsemanship division. Miss Marilyn Hesse was pinned reserve. In the pony division, Lucky, owned by Miss Marilyn Walters, captured the tri-color, with Little Britain, owned by Hutchinson Stables reserve.

Miss Catherine Foster retired the Walters Challenge Trophy for North Jersey Horse and Pony League members with her third consecutive win. She also won the judging class, an event where the entrants were pinned on their judging ability. They marked their cards and gave reasons for their placing. Humphrey S. Finney also judged the class and the entrants were pinned on the similarity of their cards to Mr. Finney's.

HORSE SHOWS

Berkshire

Two owner-ridden horses, Celtic Warrior, owned by Miss Susan Lounsbury, and Four Roses, owned by James Rooney, accounted for the best ribbons in the working hunter classes at the Berkshire show. Celtic Warrior won the Breezy Knoll trophies as well as the working hunter championship. The Breezy Knoll trophy is a new award which is given to the horse winning the greatest number of points during the show.

The easy-going Four Roses, a great favorite with the spectators, was pinned reserve champion of the Berkshire show for the second consecutive year.

The special heavyweight working hunter class (horse to carry 185 lbs. live weight) was won by Lady Eve, owner-ridden by Gerald Weiss.

Cliff Congdon's mare Pitchfork won the jumper tri-color by a wide margin and was just one-half point behind the Breezy Knoll trophy winner.

Louis Vogeli's Rimwrack was named reserve champion jumper after winning a jump-off to break the tie with Joe Keefe's Pegasus.

RIDING at The Homestead

The Homestead has been serious about riding for more years than most American resorts have been in existence.

The Homestead stables have fifty horses, mostly hunter hacks, with a few suitable for children and a few only for experts. All are meticulously groomed. Tack and stables are given a degree of care which is quite unusual, because good riding has always been a part of, rather than an adjunct to, life at The Homestead.

The Homestead is far more than a rider's paradise, however, and is an especially fine place for leisure pursuits. A gay social scene and our famous service attract guests from all parts of the world. Superb facilities for other sports, including two championship 18-hole golf courses, help to balance out a rider's vacation, and make it a really fine experience.

Hanover

Kimberton Hill Farm's Kimberling, a smooth jumping 9-year-old bay gelding, made a clean sweep of the working hunter division, winning all but the ladies and the hack. With smooth riding Bill Loeffler handling the saddle assignment, Kimberling piled up a score of 25½ points.

The reserve working hunter champion was won by Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hallman's bold fencing brown gelding, Sky's Impression, which was handled by Mrs. Hallman.

The open jumper classes were by far the best and also the most well filled. Pat Dixon and the Millarden Farm entries, Bedford and Injun Joe, made a clean sweep of this division, winning four of the nine classes with Bedford. The black gelding, which is the crowd favorite, leaped a course of 5'-6" to win one phase of the knock-down-and-out class.

The reserve in the open division was won by Mrs. Hugh Barclay's Balko's Edge, which was ridden by Adolph Mogavero. The 16-hand brown gelding put in consistent performances throughout the show.

Morton W. (Cappy) Smith's Meltonian, a 5-year-old chestnut gelding, was ridden by his owner to win the conformation hunter tri-color. Going into the last day of the show, Waverly Farm's The Cad had the lead in this division but in the stake and preliminary Mr. Smith's entry was pinned on top, winning the championship with a score of 16½ points. The Cad, with Miss Molly McIntosh riding, ended the show with a score of 13 points, and the reserve.

The green conformation hunter champion was won by another Virginia entry as Mrs. E. M. Perry's Jazz Session, ridden by his owner and Morton W. Smith, topped the field. Jazz Session, a good looking 4-year-old bay gelding, put in smooth trips throughout the show to pile up a score of 19 points. The reserve green title went to Waverly Farm's Bigeno, which was ridden by Miss Molly McIntosh and George Kerns to a score of 14 points.

Lincoln Saddle Horse Club

Broiling under the sun in a temperature officially recorded as 105 degrees, seventy-four horses and riders competed for ribbons at the 9th annual show of the Lincoln Saddle Horse Club.

Other special events were exhibition classes by children. Miss Priscilla Cassidy of Lincoln exhibited her chestnut mare, Revel, in a jumping event to show progress in beginning jumping. Two student classes were presented by the children who have been taking instruction from coaches at the Saddle Club.

Madison

Children's horsemanship and pleasure mount classes were abundantly and vigorously contested.

In the numerous one-night shows in the Nashville area given over almost entirely to gaited and walking horse competition, the only way to have horsemanship and hack classes included is to settle for late afternoon hours. Fourteen rode in the pleasure pony class, 11 in restricted horsemanship.

Manlius Bridle Pals

One of the crowd pleasers of the show was Miss Susan Digney, riding her chestnut hunter Irataba. Susan, only 11 years old, is setting an enviable record, as again she placed in every class she entered except the championship. However, in the championship class, two more experienced riders claimed the awards. Miss Sue O'Hara, who gained her second leg on the challenge trophy given in the medal class, was the champion and Miss Judy Pfeifer was reserve.

Just as much cheering was heard for Jack Becker and his jumper Black Prince. It is his first year of showing and the grey gelding's first year in open

Mrs. Barclay captured another championship with her Sailor's Wench in the hunter division. Lakelawn Farm's young horse, The Vixon, was reserve with Ed Daniels handling the reins.

Marion Lions Club

It may be the first time the Marion Lions Club attempted to produce a horse show but what they lacked in years of experience they made up for in hard work promoting the affair.

Carl Cresswell's Pop-Over traveled all the way from New Holland, Pa. to capture the junior champion honors with Edward Mellinger up. Miss Vaye Jones' My Desire was hunter champion with the owner, Bill Shawen and Robert Williams handling the lines in different classes.

The sparkling performance of Miss Nancy Lee Coulbourn's little gray Surprise left no doubt as to whom the pony champion would be and Joe Zibelli's Trinket brought up a close second for the reserve.

McGuinness Farm

The Canadian Equestrian Team has been in training at the McGuinness Farm and the attractive courses using multi-colored F. E. I. obstacles, flagged with pennants, looks festive indeed.

J. Elliot Cottrelle's stable did well—three of his horses were winners in hunter events and Heather wound up with the working hunter tri-color. Green hunter champion was Glen Spey Farm's Pinnacle, after hacking off with Tom Gayford's Moonshine.

The Three Day Event did not go for want of entries—what with horses and riders on the shelf prior to the show. The dressage test was run off as a separate event on July 2. There were but two entries in the novice dressage and five entries went in the medium dressage, and a most excellent showing they made. The winner of the former was Mrs. George Jacobsen's Murcury, ridden by Col. Von Graffi while Maj. M. Gutowski rode L. J. McGuinness' Tara to win the latter event.

As the Three Day Event, as such, did not fill, the second day ran only the cross-country jumping phase of the second day. This was called the St. Hubert Chase and was won by L. C. Scott with a noteworthy performance riding Nautation.

Leadline ponies, open jumpers, gaited horses, and even the western parade horses filled the grounds to capacity.

Although there was no grand championship awarded, the obvious winner, had there been one, would have been 12-year-old Miss Lynda Overly's owner-ridden Dark Danger. This little brown mare, a true snaffle bridle horse, is by a Thoroughbred out of a Morgan mare, and represents the good qualities of each. She and Lynda, are presently summering at the Rock Runn Camp outside of Pottstown.

Stouffville

Entries were rather light, particularly in the jumper division but the horses on hand jumped very well. Tom Gayford's Touchdown (going exceedingly well this year) won the jumper championship. A. B. C. Farm's Black Velvet won the Puissance jumping—the first time this particular event has been staged in Ontario this year. The fences went up to 5'5" and the 3 entries all cleared this. This prize list statement that the course would start at 4'3" doubtless scared most people off.

Dr. J. B. Chassels has built up an excellent stable of young hunters with which he was very successful, winning the green championship with Colalpen and the open championship with Home Sign.

Three Oaks Riding Club

Aer Lingus, beautifully mannered and easy jumping mare of Valley Forge Farm, was ably ridden by Miss Betty Jane Baldwin to garner the conformation hunter tri-color over the flashy Radeau of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ebelhare's. In fact, Betty Jane throughout the show on various horses rode them to the winner's circle. With her brother, H. C. "Jiggs" Baldwin alternating in the saddle, these two rode their father's handsome son of Timber Boy, Jayber, to the working hunter championship over the smoothly performing Kimberling, also by Timber Boy and expertly ridden by William Loeffler.

The green working hunter division, new this year, proved to be very popular. Banks H. Talley's consistent Brief Mist, ridden by Miss Baldwin, nosed out Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winchell's attractive Little Sombbrero for the rosette.

The ever popular Pat Dixon in his expert fashion rode Millarden Farms' Bedford to capture the jumper award over stablemate, Injun Joe.

8th Annual Poison Hill Hunter Trials Held in Oregon

The L. B. Menefees' 8th annual Poison Hill Day was held July 11th at their farm near Wilsonville, Oregon. As always—a wonderful time was had by all! The trek up through the woods to Poison Hill is a relaxing start—the non-riders all hitching a ride on a big flat wagon trailer. Then comes the fun of putting your horse over the rolling course to which this year was added a natural stone wall. It's a real, permanent hunting course that even the green ones take to, like ducks to water.

There are only two events—the working hunter course and pairs or teams. This year it was pairs. After everyone's been around, it's back to the house and stables to park the horses and partake of scrumptious refreshments on the cool lawn by the river. There is much friendly re-hashing while awaiting the judges' decisions on the morning's activities. Each year the two judges have been in absolute agreement on their choices and this year was no exception. The proud new holder of the Poison Hill Perpetual Pot is Mrs. J. C. Hering whose good looking Guardsman turned in an outstanding round, with Bill Dirker in the saddle. To date this horse has shown an apparent dislike for indoor jumps and tight courses, but on this course he seemed perfectly at home and performed like a million dollars.

The beautiful blue and white Poison Hill mugs were awarded to the winning pair of Briarcrest and Perchen, both owned by Dr. George C. Saunders and ridden by Miss Gretchen Fraser and Dr. Saunders.

2nd Annual Vestavia Country Club

The Vestavia Country Club horse show in two years has become the largest show in Alabama, drawing hunter entries from five states. Birmingham audiences are getting more and more enthusiastic about the "jumping" horses, especially the corinthian and knock-down-and-out classes.

Mrs. Joan Morgenthau's Copan went consistently all day to win both the working hunter and the Alabama hunter championships.

Armoured Ridge, owned by Miss Linda Lay of Atlanta and ridden by Miss Pat Kennedy, made a beautiful round in the corinthian class to take the blue and wound up the reserve working hunter champion.

Cherry, another of Mrs. Morgenthau's horses, won the Alabama reserve championship by half a point from Johnny Griggs' Jean's Surprise.

California Two-Day Events

The Concord-Mt. Diablo Trail Ride Assn., Santa Cruz And St. Francis Riding School Olympic Events

Herman Friedlaender

This was as we had always visualized a Training Event to be: a well planned, well organized test, beautifully prepared grounds and courses, good sport, happy camaraderie and a lively interest in everything that went on by all who had come from near and far to watch it.

The Judge, Mr. Ted Schaps from Auburn, California, who had judged the same event in Concord two years ago (or rather a simpler version of it) remarked: "the progress that has been made in these two years is tremendous." And he was right. Take the dressage, for instance. With very few exceptions the performances were fluent, the movements of the horses free, the transitions from one pace to another smooth. The improvement and with good training this summer, he should make a very creditable showing in the Three-Day Event trials in Nashville this fall.

In the overall test Peggy Glaser's stable of German horses could not be beaten. Her big Holstein gelding ALT MEISTER (imported only last year from Germany) ridden by John Winnett, won the individual competition with only 46.3 penalty points, and only 10.6 points ahead of the East Prussian CULPEPPER, ridden by Miss Glaser herself. These two horses are totally different in type. CULPEPPER is descended from a breed that for over 200 years has consistently been bred for galloping and jumping ability, for tough-riders had learned to use their backs and legs and to do less with their hands. And what a difference that made! Responsive, willing horses, accepting the bit trustingly, stepping out easily and eagerly and coming back to the rider just as easily without switching their tails or shaking their heads.

Santa Cruz Two-Day Event—Thomas Bunn, Jr. on Orphan Lad in the stadium jumping phase. This pair placed 2nd in the overall event.

The first roads and trails phase of the endurance test, only 9/10 of a mile long, took an unduly heavy toll. 25% of the riders overstepped the time limit and incurred heavy penalty points.

In the steeplechase, the newly adopted local rule of giving no bonus points and penalizing only overtime worked out well. Riders forgot about their watches, and instead relied on their sense of pace which without exception brought them across the finish line within very few seconds of the allotted time.

The cross-country course seemed to be exactly of the right difficulty for the competing riders, as only four of the 14 who took part finished without fault. The whole endurance phase, which includes the steeplechase, roads and trails and cross-country sections, was completed by only one rider with zero faults. This was young Tommy Bunn on Orphan Lad. Through a little weak yet in dressage, he has nevertheless made steady ness and stamina. It is the ideal cross-country and Three-Day type, very similar to the Thoroughbred, but perhaps a little more robust and hardy.

The Holstein breed, nearly as old as the East Prussian, is bred for an entirely different purpose. It is the elegant coach horse type, but heavy enough to do most work on the farm. Quite accidentally, and not even very long ago—after World War I—it was discovered that the Holsteiners all could jump, some phenomenally so. Quite a number of the great ones in the international jumping sport of today, such as ME TEOR, DIAMANT, TORA, BADEN, DER AAR, FINK and Colonel Mariles' BARBARA, to name only a few, belong to this breed.

Tommy Bunn and ORPHAN LAD finished third in the individual results with 85 penalty points.

SANTA CRUZ TWO-DAY EVENT

The weekend of June 12-13 is one this reporter will long remember. A chapter of his youth seemed suddenly to have come to life again, a time when horses were seriously tested for their genuine worth, their galloping ability, their speed and staying power and their handiness over rough country and all kinds of obstacles that nature happened to put in the way—This Santa Cruz Trial was nothing for boys. Besides the requirements set forth in the book, it took courage, presence of mind and just plain skill on the part of both, horse and rider. All these qualities were brought out in an impressive manner.

Clouds hung low, and a light drizzle fell on Saturday morning, June 12, the eleven entries went through the dressage test (AHSA Test D). The test was won by Peggy Glaser's Culpepper who outscored his stablemate Altmeister by a scant 1½ points. Hermann Friedlaender's Rio Rita placed third.

Ideal weather prevailed when the first rider started on the six mile endurance ride in the afternoon. The first mile of roads and trials was a pleasant hack following along the edge of the woods to a large field, around the field, briefly into the woods, and back again along an old dirt road. The riders then reported immediately to the 1/2-mile track for the steeplechase—twice around over four 4-foot brush jumps. Only two horses incurred penalty points in the steeplechase for being too slow.

Next came the second roads and trails, approximately three miles over a trail which wound up and down through the woods (and poison oak!). At one point it was necessary to cross a ravine on a narrow footbridge. This obstacle had caused much speculation among the competitors as to whether or not their horses would go over it, since no one had been permitted to ride over it beforehand. The bridge was strong with a heavy floor of dirt on it, but many horses dislike bridges, large or small. All kinds of advance plans were made for dismounting immediately and leading so as to save valuable time, etc.—sugar in the pockets was standard equipment! As it turned out, no one needed to have worried—no trouble whatever was reported.

The 2-mile cross-country course was a beauty. It began with a half mile through the beautiful redwood forest where, after several turns of the path, one came upon jump No. 1, two logs wedged between trees to form a very natural type road barrier. Several hundred yards later, the flags led one down a gentle, twisting slope to the bottom of a ravine where a huge fallen log at the bottom had to be negotiated, landing on the steep upside of the ravine. I placed myself here for a while to see how some of the riders would negotiate this obstacle, as it was the most unusual yet to be faced this year. The approach was at an angle and therefore excess speed—more than a trot—would only get one in trouble. The quiet of the woods was never broken, so deep was the carpet of leaves and humus—suddenly seemingly from nowhere a horse would appear, jump and depart, in absolute silence.

The last jump out of the woods was a nicely framed white gate. From there on the course was the same as last year with a few alterations such as the addition of a ditch in front of one of the obstacles, etc. The 8-foot Trakehner Graben gave no one any trouble this year. The parallel bars, 3'-4" high and 4' wide set solidly in a fence line, was the most dreaded of the 22 obstacles. It caused one fall, and one horse hit very hard both in front and behind. Extreme speed was the cause of both troubles. Though quite spectacular, the fall of Carla Nelle and her horse Rogue Fox fortunately caused no injury to either.

Altmeister, a very close second in dressage, came through the endurance test without fault to take a commanding lead.

The stadium jumping course on Sunday was enjoyed by all exhibitors.

Among the interesting features was a triple in-and-out followed by a rustic double "stationata" so placed as to demand that the horses be well in hand on completing the in-and-out in order to swing left for a straight approach to this spread fence. The latter obstacle caused the majority of the faults by the horses knocking down the first element. Another interesting combination was a

3'-9" straight white gate place 24 feet beyond an 8-foot water jump. Expected to cause considerable trouble, the exercise actually accounted for only two refusals. A "road closed" jump with four little fire pots underneath—complete with fire—caused no refusals. Three of the team horses, Altmeister under Capt. John Winnett, Rick Kraemer's Danny D and Linda Engelhart's Mandoon, had clear rounds.

When the dust had cleared (the Pebble Beach Team was victorious by just 2.11 points ahead of the Mt. Diablo Team of teen-age youngsters which had been competing in the junior division until this meet! What an encouraging augury for the future of this sport! Capt. John Winnett received the Marion Hollins Trophy from the defeated Santa Cruz Team captain, R. W. Decker, and Winnett himself was awarded the individual trophy, having come through the test with only the 43.3 penalties incurred from the dressage! Thus, John Winnett emerged the individual winner at all three of the season's 2-Day Events. Second individual performance went to Tom Bunn and Orphan Lad with 64 penalty points and third place to young Capt. Rick Kraemer of the "baby" team with 78.3 penalties.

U. S. Team Saves Veteran Cavalry Horses at Ft. Riley

Prompt action by the U. S. Equestrian Team and private donors saved 14 old U. S. Cavalry horses from being shipped to unfamiliar surroundings from their old stables at Fort Riley, Kansas, and has insured for these veteran equine campaigners quiet retirement only a stone's throw from where they were trained as international competitors.

Four of the 14, Swizzlestick, Rascal, Lady Balbec and Uhlán, are noted for their exceptional skill as jumpers in the Olympics and in other international competition. Col. John W. Wofford, USA (ret.) a former U. S. rider and captain-coach of the 1952 American equestrian team, suggested that Fifth Army Headquarters turn the 14 old-timers over to the U. S. Equestrian Team.

Colonel Wofford, of Rimrock Farm, Milford, Kan., close-by Fort Riley, has taken the responsibility of the retirement of the 14 old equine high-jumpers on behalf of the now civilian U. S. Equestrian Team which has agreed to retire the horses at no cost to the Government.

Dakota, famous old cavalry mount who was a star member of the U. S. jumping team from 1932 to 1940, and placed 4th in the Olympics of 1936, has been turned over to Dr. Fred O'Donnell, still practicing medicine in Junction City, Kan., adjacent to Fort Riley. Dr. O'Donnell, and Dakota, 27 are about the "same" age, but the latter is now retired after an illustrious career, including many honors won at Madison Square Garden. Dr. O'Donnell has also taken under his wing the late General Jonathan Wainwright's noted mount, Millwood, because the two men were close friends and Millwood was the Bataan hero's last horse.

Letters To The Editor

I have always believed that a hunter's, excluding the show ring hunter at this time, primary prerequisite is that of natural movement. In breaking and training a horse as a hunter I have always been under the impression that the main purpose is to develop obedience and manners, and skill over jumps or any obstacle, but at the same time, to preserve the natural, free and flexible movement the horse possesses. The best illustration of the movement I speak of, can be observed in the foal or yearling playing in pasture with his fellows. We cannot fail to appreciate the grace, the ease, and the skill in which these youngsters meet the challenge of their environment.

Now, I ask in what way can we expect dressage to aid in what, to my eyes, is all ready flawless?

I have a limited knowledge of the "High School" methods used in Europe. The movements are highly collected and artificial—are not the terms "High School" and "Dressage" synonymous as used in Europe? If so, how has the word, "Dressage" changed in meaning in its travel across the ocean to America? I have observed that the term is used very loosely, to apply to almost any form of schooling or training, in most parts of this country. Is it not possible for someone to write a clear, informing article on dressage in the U. S. Exactly what it means and when and why it is used. Such an article would enlighten many of us who have been very confused, and also limit the use of the word by many who have no more knowledge than I, but use it merely as a drawing card in their business.

Thank you for bearing with me. I have always enjoyed The Chronicle and look forward to it each week.

Sincerely,

Ruth H. Hughes (Mrs. B. G.)

POLO NEWS

Chagrin Valley Hunt Polo Team Wins 11th Consecutive Game

Louise O'Neill

Cleveland has a prospective champion in its first polo team in 11 years.

At the Chagrin Valley Hunt Club polo field which lays at the foot of Courtney Burton's picturesque home, the Cleveland Polo Club July 25 won its 11th straight game by trouncing the Columbus team, Harbor Hills by a score of 10-5.

A member of the Penn-Ohio League, Cleveland has virtually outclassed every opponent met thus far this season. Cleveland is also a member of the Ohio Polo Assn, and this year was accepted by the United States Polo Assn.

Rough-riding Jimmy Bahr was responsible for four goals in the Harbor Hills game to boost his total goals for this year to more than 60. Dick Knepper, a veteran of 15 years experience as a mallet man, poked in five goals. Johnny Bryan, despite a chipped knee bone, incurred in a hard game at Darlington, Pa., had one goal to his credit.

Capt. Herb Green, enlisted the services of Bryan for the 1954 season. Bryan began his career at the age of 12, on a string of Shetland ponies and using a sawed off mallet. Hailing from Fort Stockton, Texas, Bryan's drawl can be heard over the action of the game guiding players to key spots.

The Cleveland-Harbor Hills was an exceptionally clean if hard played game. Few fouls were called by referee, Chick Bahr. But Harbor Hills' spark left them when in the third chukker in a fast period of play Cleveland made five goals.

Virginians Upset Squires in "Sudden Death" Extra Period

Doug Ward

A lightning quick goal in a "sudden death over-time period" by Jack Shirley of the Virginians made the difference as the visitors defeated Washington 4 to 3 Sunday. It only took the Virginians 30 seconds in the deciding frame to break open what otherwise was the best game played this season on Barnsley Field.

Bill Beall of the Squires got off to a 2-0 lead with a pair of quickies in the first half. A goal by Dr. John Keeler widened the gap to 3-1 as George Kitteredge of the Virginians tallied just before the half time whistle.

Washington made a stubborn bid to go out in front but timely saves by Shirley and Frank Laimbeer checked the Squires attack in the second half. Kitteredge came through with another score in the fourth frame as did Tom Arms, who tied the score in the final chukker, 3-3.

The second half was pretty spirited with plenty of contact and riding off and both teams threatening to score. Bradley, Washington's leading scorer, was shut out for the day due to a broken bone in his right hand. This didn't stop his spectacular defensive work as he repeatedly broke through the Virginians attack to steal the ball.

In the sudden death period, Shirley stole the ball and drove deep into Washington territory where team mate Arms set up the winning goal with a neat back-hand. All Shirley had to do was to follow his shot with a tap-in and the game went to the Virginians.

Ivory Rangers Triumph Over Strawberry Hill And Detroit Majors

Art Hagan

Capt. Jack Ivory turned in a brilliant all-around performance to lead the Ivory Rangers to a 5-4 triumph over Strawberry Hill in an uphill battle on the indoor field at the Ivory Polo Grounds Wednesday evening, July 21.

In the first game on the doubleheader, Mac Stefani scored four goals as the Pontiac Chiefs defeated Franklin Hills, 7-2.

Strawberry Hill, with the advantage of two goals by handicap, bolted into a 3-0 lead in the first chukker. Strawberry Hill stayed away throughout the first three chukkers, holding a 4-3 edge as the final period started.

Jack Stefani tied the score at 4-4 midway in the chukker. Then Capt. Ivory took charge.

With 90 seconds left, he hit a lusty forehand drive from near midfield. As the ball bounded toward the goal, Davey Williams of Strawberry Hill tried to get to it but Ivory carried him far wide with a strong ride.

The ball stopped just short of the goal, but Ivory turned sharply rode in and punched the ball into the scoring area.

It was the unbeaten Rangers' second straight triumph on the indoor field, and their eighth win of the season.

Ivory clearly dominated play in the last three chukkers. His defensive work was superb and he set up several plays that just missed producing goals. It was one of the finest individual efforts seen here this season.

Little Freddie Lutzow, a galloping opportunist, knocked in six goals as the Rangers turned back the Detroit Majors, 9-3, at the Ivory Polo Grounds Sunday afternoon, July 25.

The victory was the ninth in a row for the Rangers, including seven triumphs on the grass and two on the indoor field.

It was a noteworthy win, too, for the Majors had been raised to 19-goal strength by the addition of Lew Smith (9 goals) from East Aurora (N. Y.) and Billy Mayer (6 goals) from the Brandywine Polo Association.

Although Lutzow's spectacular break-aways were the scoring highlights of the afternoon, the conquest was the result of solid teamwork. Capt. Jack Ivory at No. 3 and Johnny Ryan back, persistently broke up the Major attack with their sharp checking and fancy stickwork.

Ray Harrington, a guest from Brandywine at No. 2 for the Rangers, also played a game worthy of his 6-goal stature.

Ivory's long downfield passes were a major factor in Lutzow's flashy scoring forays. The two teamed perfectly on several picture plays.

Lutzow was superb in stroking the ball into the goal mouth at top speed when he had the opportunities. He is now the Rangers' leading pointmaker with 32 goals in eight games.

The Majors grabbed an early lead on Smith's long shot in the first chukker, but Lutzow evened the count in the second period when he intercepted a pass and rode in unchallenged to score. He pumped in two more goals in the third chukker to put the Rangers ahead to stay.

Harrisburg Poloist Win Decisively Over Philadelphia Team

Bob Gallagher

After a 16 to 8 setback last Sunday, the Harrisburg Polo Club redeemed itself by drubbing the Philadelphia Club yesterday by a score of 16 to 5. Gil Miller and Ben Forney shared scoring honors for Harrisburg by driving in seven goals each. Gerry Powell led the Philadelphia scoring with goals. Powell scored one of his goals by successfully making a foul shot.

In the featured second game the All Stars defeated Maule Farms by a score of 8 to 6. The score was tied at 6-6 after three chukkers of play. Howard Fair of the All Stars very definitely broke the tie in the final chukker by scoring two goals. Maule Farms and the All Stars have faced each other twice this season. The record now stands at one and one. Howard Fair accounted for four goals including the two he scored in the fourth chukker. Albie Stewart led the Maule Farms trio with four goals.

Saratoga

The United States Hotel Stakes, 71st running, 6 furlongs, 2-year-olds. (August 7). After his victory in the Flash, Laugh was made the odds-on choice for the U. S. Hotel, but he didn't run at Saratoga as he did at Jamaica.

Jet's War Date flew out into the lead and for half a mile appeared likely to run off with a race. Then he began to tire.

Summer Tan and Grandpaw went past the leader, and the latter was in front by half a length with a furlong to go.

He couldn't hold it, though; Summer Tan took over and drew out to win by three lengths. Grandpaw was a head in front of Illusionist, which never had been far back, and Laugh was another length back in fourth place.

Summer Tan was scoring his second stakes victory, having taken Jamaica's Youthful earlier in the year. His record shows 3 wins, 2 seconds and earnings of $36,325, including the $17,625 from the U. S. Hotel. The bay son of *Heliopolis—Miss Zibby, by Omaha, races for Mrs. R. A. Firestone, who bred him. S. W. Ward trains him and Eric Guerin has ridden him to both stakes wins.

The Saratoga Handicap, 52nd running, 1¼ miles, 3-year-olds and up (August 7). After finishing third in the American Legion Handicap on August 4, Cold Command went into the Saratoga sharp as Sylvester Veitch could make him. He took an early lead and held it until Hedley Woodhouse pulled him up, which was some distance past the finish line.

Throwing off challenges from Bassanio, Impulsivo and Social Outcast, Cold Command won by a length and three-quarters and was drawing out at the end.

Social Outcast, a threat all the way, took second money by a head over Impulsivo. Domquil was fourth, a length and a half farther back.

The winner's share of $19,450 puts Cold Command at $62,790 for the season. He has won 4 times in 14 starts, been second once and third 6 times. His only other stakes victory was in the Brandywine Handicap.

Last season he won the Blackstock and Westchester Handicaps and 3 other races in 19 starts. He was second twice and third 3 times. His efforts brought in $87,150.

The five-year-old horse is by War Admiral—Monsoon, by *Mahmoud and was bred by C. V. Whitney. He races for the same gentleman.

Washington Park

The Clang Handicap, 13th running, 7 furlongs, 3-year-olds and up (August 4).

Handicapper F. E. Farrell got himself a tight finish, when his weights brought eight horses to the wire within the space of little more than two lengths. It was almost anybody's race a sixteenth of a mile out, but Precious Stone, a 9-to-1 shot, drove through to win by a neck over Sickle's Image. The latter was a half-length before Hi Billee, which trimmed the pace-setting Baybrook by three-quarters. Spur On, Happy Go Lucky, Smackover and Mr. Black all were close.

Precious Stone, the property of Mr. H. C. Fruehauf was registering his first 1954 win. He has been second three ed in the runner-up position, beaten 2 lengths, but only by virtue of a bobble at the final hurdle. It was 7 lengths back to third to Jet Command, while in fourth place, another Syndicate horse, Fox 2nd, owned by Mrs. Ogden Phipps and ridden by F. D. Adams, ran over tired horses in the last quarter mile, after receiving a cautious ride. In this race, some crowding occurred over the final hurdle on the backstretch and to the turn where 5 horses converged into space for about three. Jockey R. S. McDonald, on Montevideo on the outside was held responsible for this and received a ten day suspension.

On Tuesday, Mighty Mo's win was aided by Goose Bay, when that one racing with Moot for the lead curving into the homestretch, wentwide, carried Moot with him, and permitted Jockey A. Foot on Mighty Mo to steal up on the inside. This incident lost 4 or 5 lengths for Goose Bay and Moot. Racing for the final jump, all three took it heads apart, but in the run to the wire, Mighty Mo stretched his advantage out to 4 or 5 lengths. Moot finished second an equal distance in front of Goose Bay, which hung in the drive. It was a rather good effort for Moot which first put away Night Patrol in the early stages, then Old Shoe, and finally Goose Bay. Had she not been carried wide at the final turn, Moot could well have been the winner, or a close up second.

A claiming hurdle race on Wednesday resulted in a handy victory for the Happy Hill Farm's Marchest with Tommy Field doing whatever booting was necessary, coasting under the wire by five. In the run from the final hurdle to the wire, Kwango bested Crag to garner the runner-up spot two lengths in front of that one. A dangerous appearing spill occurred in this race when Step Dance lost his rider, Jimmy Murphy at the first hurdle. It seemed like a half a dozen horses ran over the top of Murphy, and reports indicated that he lost several teeth, and has a fractured skull.

On Saturday, 6 well matched hurdlers met in the mile and a half Fair Crystal purse, and it produced a mild upset bettingwise, with John M. Schiff's Carafar getting the nod in a nose finish, besting Montpelier's Altus. Par Amour and Brechin completed the money positions in that order. Altus, a big strapping 3-year-old, took the lead early in the race, went wide on the first turn, while, Scottie Schulhofer on Carafar saved every inch on the inside, and lay close to the pace from that point on, although the field of six were well bunched all the way. Altus continued to lead down the backstretch, around the final turn and up to the final hurdle. At this point, he landed just a bit off stride, and despite Albert Foot's urging, was not able to withstand the winner. This was Carafar's first winning effort since last fall when he was a handy victor in a maiden race a few weeks after landing in this country from France.

Race Makes Champions

Monmouth Park's Sapling Stakes, one of the major eastern tests for two-year-olds, has turned out such winners in recent years as Battlefield, among the top 10 all-time purse earners, Landlocked, winner of the $100,000 Widener last winter, and Artismo, who has won nearly $150,000 in purses.

times in 7 starts. With the $13,825 from the Clang he has $27,700 for the year.

Last year, when a three-year-old, he earned $41,231 in 26 starts. He was first 8 times, second and third 3 times each.

Bred by Warner L. Jones, Jr., the gelding is by *Royal Gem II, from Cash Book, by *Bull Dog.

A. Lamoureux trains for Mr. Fruehauf. W. M. Cook had the mount in the Clang.

Hazel Park

The Sophomore Mile, 3-year-olds, 1 mile (July 31). Mr. Duke Singer's Hangover, a 10-to-1 chance, galloped through the heavy going to register by 2½ lengths over Trip Lightly in the Sophomore Mile.

Bright Shoes was another four lengths back, in third place, and six lengths before Mr. Jett in the strung-out field.

The favored Dagazna finished sixth.

Hangover, a bay colt by Apache—Corn Likker, by *Flares, collected $3100 for Mr. Singer, which makes a total of $16,840 for the year. He has won 5 races and been third once in 15 starts.

As a juvenile last year, he raced 16 times, won 2, was second in 1 and third in 2, earning $4785.

The colt was bred by S. D. Shor. R. F. Curran trains him and Mike Basile had the mount in the Mile.

Randall Park

Lake Erie Handicap, 2nd running, 1¼ miles, 3-year-olds and up (July 31). Jockey V. Bovine rated Mr. Skip perfectly and brought the 24.40-to-1 shot to the wire half a length ahead of Little Imp in Randall's Lake Erie 'cap. Euclid was 1½ lengths back in third place and held a margin of 3½ over Eli Cookie.

The race was worth $3920 to N. S. Scava, owner and trainer of the winner.

A four-year-old colt by Blenban—Crusand, by Sandy Bill, Mr. Skip was racking up his second win in 10 starts this season. He has been second once and shows total earnings of $6645.

Last year he won $14,920 as a result of 4 wins and a second in 10 starts.

Del Mar

Oceanside Handicap, 5th running, 6 furlongs, 3-year-olds (July 31). Lucky Martin, the odds-on favorite, won five of the six furlongs in the Oceanside, but Spring Count, owned by J. Ross Clark II, won the last and most important one. At the wire, the son of Count Fleet—Springtide, by Menow, was two lengths before Domingo Kid, which beat the choice by one. Lucky Martin was a neck in front of Indian Red, the fourth to finish.

The purse of $6775 gives Spring Count earnings of $18,650. He shows 3 wins, 3 seconds and 4 thirds in 16 starts. The colt did not race at two.

Bred by Claiborne Farm, Spring Count brought $21,000 at the Keeneland Sales of '52, so he still has a way to go to break even.

W. W. Lipton trains for Mr. Clark. R. Lumm was aboard Spring Count for his first stakes win.

CHAMPION FLORIDA MARE

The mare, Leonardtown, could be rightly called the Mother of champion Florida race horses. Three of the last six winners of the Florida Breeders' Stake at Hialeah have been out of Leonardtown: Werwolf in 1949, sired by Ariel Game; Wolf Gal in 1953, sired by *Samurai, and Merriwolf in 1954, sired by Noble Hero.

French Racing Scene

soft before racing began, but worse was to come. The parade coincided with one of the heaviest rainstorms I have ever seen. Horses and riders were drenched within a few seconds and the track became a quagmire. It was still raining hard when the race began.

Antares was the only one to lose ground at the start and Mondragon quickly went ahead from Beigler Bey, Mahan and Le Petit Prince. Mondragon was still in front half a mile from home but lost his lead coming up the final turn into the stretch. Here Le Petit Prince raced past him.

Halfway down the stretch Rene Bertiglia was hard at work on Le Petit Prince and it appeared likely that both Sica Boy, the favourite, and Antares would beat him for they were going the better. Le Petit Prince's abundant stamina, however, won the day. He galloped on strongly while his opponents weakened and he passed the post two and a half lengths in front of Antares with Sica Boy a neck away third.

Major was fourth and Yorick seventh, while Popof, floundering in the mud, came in many lengths behind. Cote d'Or II, the French 2000 Guineas winner, was another out of his element. He never promised to be concerned in the finish.

Le Petit Prince was bred by his owner Mr. L. L. Lawrence, an American with business interests in the French film industry. The colt is by Prince Bio and he has a stayer's pedigree. He would have been ideally suited by such a tough test of stamina as the Grand Prix de Paris.

The unfortunate mishap, which prevented Le Petit Prince from running in the race, leaves us in doubt as to his exact merit.

The Prix de Diane, called the French Oaks, needs little description. This ten and a half furlongs event was won in easy style by Madame Couturie's Tahiti, a highly strung but brilliant filly, who started favourite. She won by a length and a half from H. H. Aga Khan's Baghicheh with Uptala third and Virgule, the French 1000 Guineas winner, fourth. The Prix de Diane thus remains one of the few big races, in either England or France, which the Aga Khan has yet to win.

Best of the other French 3-year-olds which have, so far, not been mentioned are M. Jean Stern's Soleil Levant, M. E. Martinez de Hoz' Falstaff and M. Marcel Bousac's Estremadur.

Soleil Levant, a half brother to Sicambre the 1951 Grand Prix de Paris winner, beat a big field of three and four-year-olds in the valuable Grand Prix de Printemps, at Saint-Cloud in early June. Falstaff is only a miler, but, at that distance, there are very few horses in France who can beat him. He gave the latest taste of his quality at Longchamp on Grand Prix day when he beat the older champion Fine Top in the Prix de la Porte Maillot.

Estremadur is a different type altogether. He is one of the progeny of M. Bousac's remarkable broodmare Astronomie, who has already produced classic winners in Caracalla II, Arbar and Asmena. Estremadur looks as if he will uphold the family name. He did not run as a 2-year-old and made his first appearance in a maiden race at Chantilly, winning by ten lengths.

The colt's only other race to date was at Longchamp a fortnight later when, handicapped by a slow early pace, he only just scrambled home against moderate opposition. Time will do much for Estremadur. His principal objective this year is the Doncaster St. Leger, in September.

No champion has yet emerged among the 2-year-olds. The best seen out so far are Soya, Americ and Mme Volterra's filly Cassild. Soya is unbeaten, while Mr. R. B. Strassburger's Americ held off Cassilda to win the valuable Prix du Bois, at Longchamp, by a short head.

Racing in England is really outside the scope of these notes, but a word of praise is due to those two game French stayers Elpenor and Silex II, who fought out the finish of the Ascot Gold Cup just as they had done in the Prix du Cadran, the French equivalent of the race. Silex II was the victor at Longchamp, but the luck was with Elpenor at Ascot and he just scraped home by a short head.

SARATOGA NEWS BRIEF

Top price for the first evening's session on August 9th at the Saratoga Sales was the $13,000 which Oklahoman H. H. Mundy gave for Ben Buck Farm's Polynesian—Blue Sonnet, by War Admiral colt, in a well-attended market deemed strong considering the offering. . . . J. A. Rodney was the second high bidder on the evening's "dollar ladder", when he "climbed" $7,000 to purchase the last Snark yearling ever to be offered at public auction, the bay daughter of the mare Hasty Heels, the full sister to the stakes-class Jubling. . . . The only *Endeavour II's offered in the yearling sales ring this summer went for a collective $11,200, with the New Yorker W. G. Loew getting one at $6,500 and Mrs. M. E. Person of Llangollen Farm, (where stands the famed sire of Porterhouse) the other for $4,700. . . . A brown filly by *Blenheim II—Surita, by Rosemont, brought $6,000 from Allen Gale, of Jamaica; while Leslie Combs II, reversing his role of vendor, unlimbered his pocketbook and bought a Mr. Busher colt out of the English mare *Valentine's Brook, for $6,100. . . . The well known steeplechasing and racing figure F. Ambrose Clark bought the only Papa Redbird colt consigned—a chestnut out of Leonissa, by *Sickle for $5,500, and Jacob Byer as agent, bought the only Alquest offered for $5,600. . . . The first yearling by Admiral Lea to be offered in the sales ring went to the Sunshine Stable of Miami for $5,700. . . . Mrs. M. E. Person also bought an imported filly by Bois Roussel for $3,000. This filly, a half-sister to a stakes winner, could prove a bargain buy either on the track or in the rapidly expanding Llangollen broodmare band. . . . The first night's action continues to show that the buyers are still discriminate.

ENTERPRISING BUSINESSWOMAN

Top price of the second evening's session at Saratoga was the $40,000 that Mrs. John A. Bell, III got for her bay colt by Discovery—Stellar Role, by Bimelech which went to F. Ambrose Clark. This youngster's story according to Mr. Bell, had its beginnings several years ago when Mrs. Bell's father gave her a sow. From this sow Mrs. Bell raised several litters of pigs which she sold and banked the profits. From this bankroll she bought a weanling which she sold for enough to buy the mare Stellar Role, out of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's consignment to the 1952 Keeneland Fall Sales for $3,100.

Stellar Role's previous foals had not been too impressive but she was in foal to Discovery at the time. Among her past produce was the non-starter Find, which last year at 3 "found himself", to become one of the better 3-year-olds of the season, thereby distinguished his dam.

When the bidding on this yearling brother to Find reached $39,000, Morris Dixon, with Mrs. Arthur Godfrey at his elbow, was the top man but the bid was shortly upped another hundred by Jimmy Jones of Lexington. Mr. Jones was bidding for Frank Sherman of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, Chairman of the Board of Dominion Foundries and Steel, Ltd. Then from the heretofore unheard corner, trainer Arthur White raised his hand to place the bid at $40,000. This move silenced all challengers and the gavel fell with the colt going to Mr. White, who had acted on behalf of F. Ambrose Clark.

ALERTED BIDS FAREWELL

Colonel H. B. Marcus of Glade Valley Farm announced that The Purchase Handicap on August 9 at Saratoga was the last start for the outstanding campaigner Alerted. The durable, hard-hitting son of Bull Lea—Hastily Yours, by John P. Grier, finished up the track after never having been in the "hunt". The 6-year-old stallion will take up stud duties next season at Colonel Marcus' farm at Walkersville, Maryland.

SEEN AT OAK BROOK

The 2-year-old and under at the Oak Brook Horse Show, Hinsdale, Ill. had a whee of a time in the breeding classes. . . . A certain unsuspecting female, her beloved Irish setter at her side, suddenly came face to face with the entire Oak Brook pack in the woods. Clutching her setter frantically in her arms, she made tracks for the nearest program stand to sit on him through the pack exhibit (like unto a mother hen) while horrible, rending asunder mental pictures floated through her head. . . . Just before Oak Brook's excellent exhibition of well trained hounds, one hound, bored with waiting to go into the ring, stood on his hind legs and went minutely over a miniature fire truck which took children for rides all day. —L. B. C.

MONMOUTH MOMENTS

Monmouth Park's hurdle session, which filled every race in the condition book and offered two extra races, closed in fine fettle. Following the 4th running of the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap, Amory L. Haskell put the grand finale on the three weeks of infield sport with a cocktail party and buffet supper at his Woodland Farms estate, near Red Bank. Members of the hurdle fraternity and other invited guests were present. Refreshments and supper were served in the garden and later they enjoyed the piano-playing songstress June Nelson, well known in Palm Beach and Chicago. . . . Mr. Haskell gave voice with "If Charlie Ever Hits Broadway", a number about English's Gay King Charles, with which he amused Princeton Triangle Show audiences a few years back. . . . Leah Ray, now Mrs. "Sonny" Werblin, wife of the president of the Music Corporation of America, gained much applause with some of the songs she crooned over the airways a few years ago. The evening ended early as practically all of the guests were attending the highly successful Ball and Carnival which was held at Monmouth Park on the following night. . . . The Vernon G. Cardys, down from Ste. Marguerite, Canada, to see *Cammell Laird run in the Midsummer, were high in their praise of the beautiful racing plant. Mr. Cardy said it was living in "Marble Halls."

GEORGE CHUBB

George Chubb 73-year-old veteran of the horse-world passed away on July 29th. Mr. Chubb, manager of the Allegheny Country Club Stables for thirty-three years retired last September. He was well known and respected by horsemen throughout the country and his wit and jovial disposition will be missed by all. —C. B.

Wofford has sent along the following information taken from a letter he received from the Secretary General F. E. I.: "The Swedish Equestrian Federation to whom has been given the permission to organize the Equestrian Games of the XVI Olympiad to be held in Stockholm in 1956, asks us that the dates from 10th to 17th of June 1956 would be reserved." As a member of the Executive Bureau, Col. Wofford will agree to these dates with the permission of the American Horse Shows Association.

BOOTS—BOOTS—BOOTS

Maj. Michael Gutowski, one of the judges at the Canadian Inter Branch Pony Club Rally was pretty upset to learn, upon returning to his hotel room, that a boy had walked in and picked up his boots and walked out. Bemoaning the theft to Bob Hollingsworth resulted in locating the boots all right, but it was rather a fluke. Bob Hollingsworth had laid a drag that morning for the Toronto & North York Hounds which were sent

Painting of Shelburne Terriers by Well Known Westport, Conn. Artist

The painting reproduced on our cover this week is an oil of Shelburne Terriers, by H. C. Wolcott.

The Shelburne Terriers, bred by J. Watson Webb, stem from the Jones Terriers, now known as Norwich Terriers, and are an outcross of that breed.

The Norwich Terrier Club in England had the following to say about their breed in a bulletin published in 1950.

"About the middle of the 19th Century a man known as 'Doggy' Lawrence was breeding small red terriers (about 10 lbs. in weight), which he sold chiefly to Cambridge undergraduates, and it is believed that these dogs were the foundation of what are now known as Norwich Terriers. The breeding of them was also taken up by a Mr. Nicholls of Wymondham in Norfolk, and a Mr. Fred. Low also of Norfolk, who sent some to a Mr. Jack Cooke, a Master of Hounds, with whom at that time was 'Roughrider' Jones. When Mr. Jones left Mr. Cooke to join Mr. Stokes of Market Harborough, he took with him some of these terriers, and continued breeding them. Some of his dogs were exported to America, and hence the American 'Jones' Terriers. The 'Trumpington' Terrier (from Trumpington Street in Cambridge) is also another name for the Norwich Terrier.

"It was not until February 1932 that the Norwich Terrier was admitted to the Kennel Club Register. They were benched for the first time at the Richmond Championship Show in July of the same year, and it was then that the Norwich Terrier Club was Formed.

"The Norwich Terrier is one of the smallest of the Terriers; of a lovable disposition, not quarrelsome, and with a strong constitution."

up from Aurora by Clifford Sifton, M. F. H., to give the Pony Club children a morning hunt. Having no further use for his boots, Mr. Hollingsworth asked one of the boys from the Toronto & North York Branch of The Pony Club to get them from the hotel and have his father take them back to Aurora. The boy walked into the hotel, found the boots and in due course, they got to Aurora. The thing was that he went to the wrong hotel. There were only two hotels in Sutton and only one horseman staying in each. —Broadview

RINGSIDE AT LAKE FOREST

Happy Day, Si Jayne's owned and Miss Dorothy McCloud up, gaily bucked all the way around the ring as he went clean 3 times to win the knock-down-and-out sweepstakes. . . . One motion of Ringmaster Bill Strickland's finger and two happy, odd sized and make dogs which were trotting busily into the ring, simply stopped, started and politely trotted out again. Wrong class—but sterns still wagging. . . . Forty-seven good junior working hunter hacks gave the judges a rough time of it. The junior competition was really rugged to put it in their own language and mildly. . . . Jean Denley's nice going Birchwood got all banged up while being unloaded before the show; this keeps his owner grounded and himself pretty much laid up for the summer. . . . Then, that dependable team of Peggy Goemans and her fine grey, Lamp Chops. Chops picked the end of the show to present his loading problem and now he is out of commission for awhile. The Goemans family have been transplanted to California so the West Coast Horse Show circles have a good junior team, Peggy and Chops. . . . Pigtailed Martha Daniels and her little black mare, Caroline, all the way from White Bear Lake, Minn., captured the hearts of all with their amazing and consistently good performances. —L. B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Willis and their daughter Priscilla, of Northbrook, Ill., were visitors at Monmouth Park during the three weeks of hurdle racing. Mrs. Willis' hurdle horses are trained by Mrs. C. E. Adams.

DIVISION ADDED

This year's Bath County Horse & Pony Show at Hot Spring, Va. will feature a new junior division. This addition was decided upon as so many children who have shown in the past are outgrowing their ponies and entering the junior division. Now both the pony division and the new junior division count towards the annual Virginia Equitation High Score Award.

LIMITED TIME

J. B. Faulconer, sports director for a Lexington radio station and announcer at Keeneland since last season's summer sales, occupied part-time the "barker" spot at Fasig-Tipton's 1954 Saratoga Sales. However, due to the press of his radio work, Mr. Faulconer only officiated on the first three nights.

HARD LUCK

The Hugh Gentrys had one of those "everything happens at once" that comes to all. At the Oak Brook Horse Show, Hinsdale, Ill., their big, handsome gray 4-year-old, Bard of Kiev, proceeded to kick his most equally handsome grey 4-year-old stablemate, Suggestion. Then the Gentrys' Circus Clown, Denny Dennehy up, slipped as he took off to go over the water jump out of the ring and went through it all in a heap, leaving both a bit groggy. For awhile it appeared as though an old back injury of Denny's might have company but this wasn't the case. —L. B. C.

JUNIOR POLOIST

R. A. Stranahan III, has joined the Springbrook Polo Club of Toledo. Bobby is on the polo squad of the Southern Arizona School for Boys, whose varsity team won the Arizona state prep school championship for 1954.

For the present, Bobby will team with Jim Devilbiss, Donny Meyer and Timmy Mather, the son of Henry Mather of Caranor and Springbrook polo fame, in a junior team playing with the junior teams of the Ivory Club in nearby Detroit.

The young poloist made his debut in Mid-West polo, playing one chukker for Springbrook in a game on July 11, which was won by the Forestview Rangers team, 5 to 4.

Mrs. Page Jennings, of Virginia, well known in the horse show exhibitor ranks, is Bobby Stranahan's aunt.

NEW LOCATION

Because of the impending sale of the Gray Farm, the Rombout kennels are being moved. The new property is located on the Pleasant Plains Road about a mile west of Clinton Hollow. There are over 160 acres of land with two residences, a large barn and other out buildings. The barn is easily convertible for use as a kennel and one of the residences could be made available to the kennel man.

Although the property is now at the Northern edge of the hunt country it is felt by most active hunting members that in a few years it will be near the center of the hunt country as it is opened up. Further, the location is only three miles from the homes of Messrs. Kay and Meyer, the members charged with the responsibility of running the kennels.

There is land available to develop a show ring and an outside course.

Work has already started on converting the large barn for use as a kennel.
